WEATHER.

United States Department of Agriculture.
Weather Bureau.
Toledo, O., April 27, 1892.

The storm which was central over Montana has increased in energy and moved eastward and is central over Minnesota. It has caused rains and cloudy weather over the entire lake region and as far south as the Ohio valley. As this storm advances to the eastward it will cause high south and southeast gales.—southeast signals are displayed on Lake Michigan and Lake Erie, and also at Duluth and Marquette. Several stations on the lakes report high winds and all deport brisk winds, which will increase in force. The clearing condition over Lake Huron has moved slowly eastward and was central Wednesday morning over Montreal. A second clearing condition of considerable magnitude has advanced from the Middle Pacific coast and covers the extreme west. The temperature has risen from 10 to 25 degrees over the Missouri, upper and lower Mississippi and Ohio valeys, and upper and lower lake region. It has fallen 10 degrees from the northwest southward to Oklahoma. Elsewhere it has remained nearly stationary. The Mississippi River is above the danger line from Cairo southward and is falling slowly.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity for next 36 hours—Rain, warmer, brisk to high winds.

INVESTIGATION.

Washington, April 27.—Assistant Attorney General Rannells is continuing his investigation of the charges preferred by Assistant Secretary Nettleton against Supt. Owen. Both Nettleton and Mr. Owen are present.

Called back to health—every tired, ailing nervous woman. The medicine to bring her back is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's weak, run-down, and over-worked, that builds her up; if she suffers from any of the distressing derangements and diseases that afflict her sex, it corrects and cures.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and the only guaranteed remedy for the ills and ailments that beset a woman. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

All "female complaints" and weaknesses are positively and permanently cured with the "Favorite Prescription." It's the only medicine for them that can be, and is, guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

Something else may be better for the dealer to sell—but think for yourself whether it can be "just as good" for you to buy.

THERE IS NO PEACE

Sherman and Foraker Men as Bitter as Ever.

The First Day of the Convention is Over,

But the Battle Royal Has Just Commenced.

A Movement to Down Machine Methods.

Speech of Charles P. Griffin, of Toledo, the Temporary Chairman—Speculation as to Candidates—Convention Gossip.

Staff Correspondence Toledo Bee.

Cleveland, O., April 27.—The republican party of the great state of Ohio, after having been forced by Governor Campbell to import money by the bushel in order to elect a republican in an overwhelmingly republican state, is in session in convention once more to name an off-year ticket and elect four delegates at large to the national convention.

The Sherman-Foraker fight is on just as hard now as it ever was, and the clash of conflicting interests can be seen on all sides. And there is danger of a split on another line. An undercurrent, visible only to those on the inside, gathered strength with the arrival of delegates. This has reference to the rebellion against machines and bossisms generally, which have dominated and controlled the movements of the republican party in Ohio for several years—the Foraker machine and the far more powerful organization known as the Sherman-Foster administration combination, both of which are talked about on all occasions and enter into every movement and connection of the party.

There are a number of the delegates who are ready to drop the cry of Forakerism and Shermanism and rally under a leadership that shall have for its object down with machines and bossism.

Precedent is found for such a proceeding in the convention held in this city in 1884, when Gen. James S. Robinson, of Hardin county, was taken out of congress and nominated for secretary of state over Capt. John F. Oglevee and other pronounced candidates for secretary of state. Those who have been galled by the cry of machines and bossism are ready to throw off the yoke, break the slates of both factions and upset all calculations and combinations that have been formed. This means the defeat of Taylor, Wydman and Chester and the taking up of an entirely new candidate.

Telegrams from Bellaire announce a movement to throw Col. Poorman, now holding the position by virtue of a gubernatorial apointment, into the breach, but there are other names of prominent men mentioned in this connection and no one can tell what the result will be if the independents push the rebellion against bossism.

Among those whose names are being canvassed, not in the nature of dark horses, but as possibilities, in case there should be a general break from Forakerism and Shermanism, are Hon. H. L. Morey, of Butler county: Hon. John Little, of Greene county, and Col. W. C. Cooper, of Knox county. These three gentlemen are all ex-congressmen, Morey and Cooper having served three terms each and Little one term.

SITUATION REVIEWED.

The Lights and Shadows of the Cleveland Convention.

Staff Correspondence Toledo Bee.

Cleveland, April 27.—Delegates began arriving in dead earnest on the late trains last night, and this morning the Forest City is full of them.

Imprecations are heaped upon the heads of the state committeemen for calling the district meetings at 11 o'clock, since it compelled many to leave their homes early on Tuesday to reach here in time, especially those in the river counties.

But they are here now, and their grumbling is soon lost in the excitement attending the contest for the honors.

Somehow or other it is very difficult to get any of the real managers to talk as to the real strength of the contesting factions. It is another case of "the one is afraid and the other dasn't."

Trying at Harmony.

That an effort is being made to harmonize the influences is plain to be seen. That it is a hard task is equally true. As stated in dispatches yesterday, too many want to continue the fight because they gain some cheap advertising by it in being talked about as "leaders."

Leaders! Ye Gods! Every one here is a leader of one or the other faction, but their leadership consists in chin music in the hotel corridors. They are not admitted into the sanctum sanctorums, but as some of the more favored drop out a word is caught and that does service for gossip until a new story is sprung. This is true of both sides, but more particularly of the anti-Shermanites, and this role has been played until it has become nauseating.

It would not take long for the average Toledoan who attends to his business, after listening to this gabble for a few hours, to cry out in anguish, "From such leaders, Good Lord, deliver us."

But the talk will likely continue until the last vote is taken, and then explanations as to how it was all brought about will furnish a new theme which will last until the boys get settled down to business in their respective homes.

A Bitter War.

Considerable uneasiness is manifest among those who have pinned their faith to Governor Foraker. They do not exactly know how the cat will jump. There is fear that the crushing spirit will take hold should some one touch a match to the flame. And, if it does, it will be all day with them, and no mistake. Even the most rabid Foraker men are not willing to seriously claim that they are in the deal at any stage if the Sherman votes are cast against them, and while they maintain a stiff upper lip for effect, it is plain their only hope for any recognition lies in the magnanimity of the Shermanites. The latter are not all in favor of the forgiving spirit.

In fact, some of them stated to the Bee that a proposition has been considered which would prevent Representative Griffin from acting as temporary chairman, who secured the position through the grace of the state committee. Speaker Laylin was approached by several to allow the use of his name to the plan, so that he might preside instead of the Lucas statesman. Better judgment is against such a step, but it only goes to show how bitter is the feeling between the contending forces.

One cannot help moralizing over the change which has been wrought in one short year. Last summer at Columbus, when Gov. McKinley was nominated, even visitors were almost denied admission to the convention hall without the exacting of a promise that they would hurrah at a given signal for the Man of Destiny. All candidates for the slightest honors delighted to announce their fealty to him, and outside of Major McKinley himself, the whole ticket was proclaimed as one nominated because of his grace.

Even Senator Sherman, who came as a delegate from Richland county, kept his seat on the floor, while the platform and boxes were filled with the elect. The senator giving up hope of having an opportunity to deliver himself of his speech, gave it to the press early in the day, and when the older heads begun to feel that possibly the humiliation was being carried too far, and got him to the stage, he was compelled to say that his remarks would be found in the papers, and making a few pleasant references to the nominee, retired with scarcely a mark of approval.

Sherman in the Saddle.

How changed is all this to-day. Senator Sherman's friends are in the saddle, but it is to their credit to have it said, that they appear to be unwilling to utilize the power they possess, and at least the leaders are counselling the election of Gov. Foraker without contest. This is said to be in the interest of harmony, but the suggestion may be pardoned if it is stated that it is a harmony entirely unappreciated, and if the contest should finally terminate in that manner, it will be given ont that the Sherman men were afraid to act otherwise.

See if it is not so.

Billy Capellar is on hand as usual, and with him his mouth. He is terribly in earnest about the bossism that exists among and over the republicans of Ohio. Of course, he never complained when the bossism was being done by the other side. He was not disturbed about the bosses of a year ago in Columbus, but it was different then, since he was doing the ordering. What a funny thing politics is any way.

The Delegates-at-Large.

All kinds of combinations are being formed for delegates to Minneapolis. That is, the combines are suggested. But none of them are a go yet.

It is pretty well settled that Gov. McKinley will be the first one chosen, though he may have to run the gauntlet of a ballot with the rest, as there is much fear that if the delegates are parceled out piecemeal, it may result in the unexpected happening.

As at present figured, should the harmony deal prevail, Foraker may register as the second delegate, but this will not be assured until the thing is done. It is in the cards, however, just now.

Boom for Sherman.

Quite a boom is on to send Senator Sherman. Those on the inside say he doesn't desire the honor, but would prefer to see Secretary Foster go in his stead. It is generally believed either could make it, if they signified the slightest willingness. Mr. Sherman has cast his fortunes for the choice of William M. Hahn, to whom he feels under obligations for services rendered in the senatorial fight, prior to and after the last campaign. Hahn is more than anxious to spread himself in national politics. By going as a delegate, it gives him a pull to succeed Col. Conger—he of the Blaine interview fame—as Ohio's member on the national committee.

Great Ambition.

The Buckeye state is becoming too small for Mr. Hahn. His few successes in the two past campaigns have dazed him, and he yearns to display his ability elsewhere.

Since Mat Quay has declined to remain at the head of the executive committee, Bill regards the place as about his size, and should Senator Sherman retain his vitality, he would be in excellent position to help his benefactor Mr. Hahn is almost certain to be one of the four at present writing.

McKinley, Hahn and Foraker being chosen, there is one place yet to fight for, and here will be the great scramble. While Mark Hanna, of Cleveland, would be the logical candidate for the Sherman men, he is open to severe criticism. It is wonderful how deeply the people of Cleveland feel toward him because of pushing the 99-year street car franchise bill through the state senate in its closing hours.

The local influence is decidedly against him, but that would go for little if the managers decided to put him through. With this objection, which many think insurmountable on account of its effect upon the future of the party, an opportunity presents itself to Col Conger, Auditor Poe and others, which is being improved.

Conger and Poe.

Should it become a question as to whether Conger or Poe would succeed in the general melee, why Poe could not make it. There is a kindly feeling toward Conger for past good work, while Poe is a very much untried man in the higher circles of politics. Indeed, even the Foraker admirers think Poe effervesces too much, in plain English, talks with his mouth. The motto of "silence is golden" is not in Eb's book."

A rumor prevails that Mark Hanna has withdrawn from the race, and should this prove to be the case, it will simplify matters a little.

Gen. Bushnell's withdrawal as a candidate for delegate at large is not altogether pleasing, and he is likely to be reentered, though his face is firmly set against the proposition. The general has become disgruntled from some cause; the harmony brush must be applied on him, or a row will follow. Asa has made all the sacrifices he proposes to.

Foraker Out-Voted.

Estimates as to the strength of the factions in the convention vary, according to the man who makes them. A fair one, it is thought, would give Sherman, in round numbers, 500, and Foraker 275. Personal friendship can affect these figures in some particulars.

The State Ticket.

But for the button-holing of candidates and their friends, it would not be thought there was a state ticket to be named at this convention. The three out-spoken candidates for secretary of state are at the Forest City house, all on the same floor, and merrily the war goes on. Taylor has a confident air, and not without reason, if the factional lines can be maintained. Wydman is expectant, full of hope, but he will not be disappointed if he is unsuccessful. Chester and his club arrangement is not meeting with much favor. Senator Hildebrand is resting on his oars, feeling he is just the man to pacify the natives if he were only nominated.

Col. Poorman, who succeeded Dan Ryan under promise not to be a candidate for the place at Cleveland, is nursing a little boomlet, which, properly fondled, can develop into some proportions. The colonel and Senator Nichols are both anxious to go to congress and it would so help matters if the senator could only get the colonel out of his way. Belmont delegates think the promise exacted from Col. Poorman was obtained in an unfair manner, and are inclined to figure how they can, under the circumstances, get the nomination for the colonel. It may be too late to move, but why would not Col. Poorman make a great dark horse? Stranger things have happened than the throwing overboard of the avowed candidates and picking up a new man.

The northwest is out in goodly numbers at work for Judge Burket, of Findlay; S. A. Weldman, of Norwalk, and Urban H. Hester, of Van Wert, the first wanting the nomination for supreme judge, and the latter the court's clerkship. "Divided we fall" expresses the situation so far as a judge for the northwest goes. Huron and Hancock counties might unite to some purpose, but as it now stands, it is not thought either Wildman or Burket can be nominated. Judge Thompson is still considered the lucky man.

Hester has the best of the canvass for the clerkship, though there is unfavorable comment on the third term feature of his race. He is regarded as the leader over Allen, of Athens.

For board of public works there is a hustle without doubt. It is anybody's race yet. Park Alexander will be handicapped if Col. Conger succeeds in getting on the slate for delegate, as he is from Summit county, and yet it is not necessarily fatal to his prospects. Capt. Lybarger, of Coshocton, is making a strong fight. Cleveland has brought out a candidate in the person of ex-Councilman Engle. His friends have been endeavoring to strike a deal with any or all of the competitors for secretary of state, thus far without success. There is no telling what a day may bring forth, however. Out of the places to be filled on the ticket, only one man is happy and confident, and that man is Judge Spear. He is a candidate for renomination for his second term, and he will have the honor without a fight.

On the whole, it is a lively scrimmage. Predictions of yesterday as to the final result of the state ticket may still stand.

CALLED TO ORDER.

The First Day of the Convention is Now in the Past.

Cleveland, April 27.—Music Hall, which always puts on gala attire in honor of such occasions, never looked more beautiful or attractive than it did this afternoon, when State Chairman C. W. King, arose to bring down the gavel on the mahogony desk. He stood beneath an immense floral arch 12 feet in height and which shed its fragrance far and near and having for its silk of the background a fan 16 feet by 40, made up of the national colors. The footlights were banked with palms, exotics, and growing flowers, while the rails of the balconies and pillars were hidden from view by flags and drapings of the old familiar red, white, and blue; the entire ensemble giving the vast interior a carnival air.

The upper balconies and the rear of the stage, which had been reserved for special guests were packed soon after noon, the fair sex especially turning out in force, and as one well-known republican after another made his appearance on the floor he was quickly recognized and treated to a round of applause.

It was half past 2 to the moment when Judge Kline called the gathering to order and the delegates rose to their feet when Rev. Dr. R. S. Pomeroy, of the Second Presbyterian church, invoked the Divine blessing on the deliberations of the gathering.

Then Hon. Charles P. Griffin, of Toledo, who had been selected by the state committee as temporary chairman, was introduced.

Mr. Griffin was somewhat embarrassed as he stepped to the front of the stage, but soon rallied and spoke as follows:

A political party is an organized union of those who agree upon or hold similar opinions concerning fundamental political or governmental questions. A time came in the history of this great nation when its peace was threatened, the welfare of its citizens imperiled, honest toil, and free labor jeopardized, and freemen everywhere menaced, not by enemies without, but by enemies within the republic. Then it was that the republican party was born—born of necessity if the great republic was to live and freedom endure. Its foundation stone was the immortal declaration of Independence, which it undertook to transmit from lofty, rhetorical, abstract generalities, into living concrete truths.

Under its great and patriotic leaders and its glorious banners, was marshalled the grandest army of peaceful freemen ever organized on behalf of the toilers of the world—of humanity. It became in truth a vast army of free workingmen—of men who worked with brain or hands, and who recognized every honest toiler as a man and brother. With the organization of the republican party in 1856 began a new era—an era of fraternity among workingmen; and from then until now the success of the republican party, in state or nation, has resulted in increased liberty and material and moral good to the people. It has been in the true sense of the term "the people's party"—the party "of and for the people." It has not only prevented the spread of slavery into free territories, but has broken the shackles of all slaves within the national jurisdiction. It has saved the Nation's life, and dedicated to free men and to free homes the vast domains of the republic. It has ennobled labor and the laborer, and by the enactment of wise laws, prevented unfair and unjust foreign competition, and opened new markets for the products of our farms and factories. It has thus established and maintained conditions which have resulted in an unprecedented degree of independence among our own citizens, enabling them to educate their children, obtain homes of their own, and live in such comfort as is not equaled and never was equaled by any other people.

But it is not necessary to detail the wonderful results it has been the means of accomplishing. They are known to you and to all intelligent people everywhere. The history of the republican party and its great achievements are written in words of living, enduring light, not alone on the pages of its country's history, but on those of the world. This history and these grand achievements are our special heritage. As the representatives of the republican party of Ohio in convention assembled, we may justly point with pride and exultation to them, and affirm that the republican party has kept its faith and redeemed its promises and pledges with greater fidelity than any other political party known to history. But since its organization it has been opposed constantly, relentlessly, and viciously by the so-called democratic party, concerning which we may also justly, and without partisanship, but simply as a matter of history, affirm, that as a political organization it has not since 1856 seriously attempted to redeem but two of its promises or pledges; one was the disruption of the Union if the republican party dared to elect its candidate for president in 1860, the other was, its declaration in 1864, that the war for the preservation of the Union was a failure, and pledging itself to do what it could to hinder its further prosecution.

Since the reconstruction period the democratic party has been without principles, convictions, or agreement among its adherents on any fundamental political or governmental question. It has simply opposed the republican party, and has by its own inconsistencies, contradictions and confessions, no right to any other name or designation than "The Opposition."

The republican party has been and is the party of progress and true reform. It is marching on in the van of the progressive civilization of the present, meeting every new question as it arises, and seeking to deal with it in the interest of all the people; while the so-called democratic party has followed on its trail, seeking to capture its camp-followers and stragglers, and plunder its camp.

Ask any one of the great leaders of this democratic party for his views or opinions on any of the important political questions of to-day, and his sore and only answer will be: "I am a democrat." When that devoted son and greatest leader of modern democracy was asked why he manipulated the steal of the senate of New York, and caused the judiciary of that great Empire state to be prostituted to such base and criminal purposes, he solemnly replied, with eyes raised skyward and his right hand over his heart: "I am a democrat." Thus at last the synonyms of modern democracy, as understood and interpreted by its great leaders, have been revealed and become known to the country. Therefore the great contest upon which we are about to enter in state and nation becomes of supreme importance to the business interests of the country, and the welfare of all honest people.

This great commonwealth was one of the first republican states, and we may proudly claim that the republican party in Ohio has furnished to the nation, both in peace and war, more great leaders than any two or three other states combined. Ohio contributed two of the original great leaders of the national republican party, Chase and Sherman. Ohio was the birth-place and nursery of a majority of the great generals of the Union army, including Grant and Sherman, Sheridan and McPherson.

That recent great enactment for the protection of our toiling millions and their homes and loved ones, was fathered and fostered by our own great McKinley. It was perfected by that alway reciprocal, and the world's unequaled statesman, James G. Blaine. It became a law when to it was attached the signature of another illustrious republican son of Ohio, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States.

The people of Ohio, her public institutions, and all her interests, have uniformly been protected, benefited, and wisely guarded whenever the affairs of the state were in control of republicans; and the very reverse of all this has as uniformly been true whenever "The Opposition" was in control. This has become so thoroughly well-known and understood by all our people that "The Opposition" in Ohio has not for a generation been intrusted for two terms in succession with the administration of the state government.

Who would exchange the record of the republican party during the two terms of Gov. Foster, now the honored and able secretary of the national treasury, for that of "The Opposition" which preceded them? Who would desire the record of Gov. Hoadley's administration extended in lieu of any part of the unsurpassed record of the republican party during the two terms of that devoted republican and prince of executives, Gov. J. B. Foraker? And who of all the intelligent and patriotic citizens of Ohio would not gladly have the record of Gov. Campbell's administration covered with a mantle of charity, and nothing more said about it? Even Gov. Campbell himself has no longer any desire "to chance" further examination and discussion of that record.

If the republican party in Ohio shall continue to be true to the people, to itself, and the people shall keep green the memory of these records, they will never again intrust "The Opposition" with the responsibilities of government.

The present republican state administration, so far as the executive department is concerned, has not been in office long enough, nor had sufficient opportunities, to fully indicate the splendid results it may accomplish; but none can doubt the outcome who know the high character, fair-mindedness, and great executive ability of Gov. McKinley. But the general assembly has finished its first session, and that part of its work which is completed is before the people of the state; and notwithstanding some unjust and partisan general criticism, the laws it has passed will stand the test of time and experience, and meet the approval of the people; and when its labors are ended, it will undoubtedly rank with the best in the history of the state.

The republican party has never failed to win glorious victory in Ohio when it went forth to battle with "fraternity and harmony" inscribed on its banners, and the spirit of those words in the hearts of its leaders and people. To-day, as at no other time in its history, should fraternity and harmony fill the hearts and control the actions of the republicans of Ohio, and especially of you, gentlemen of the convention, as their accredited representatives. If that wisdom, conciliation and unselfish fraternity which characterized all the leaders and members of the party during its early years shall find fruition here, it will insure not only victory in Ohio, but gladden the hearts and increase the endeavors of republicans every where, and greatly aid in winning that grand national victory which awaits us in November next.

Mr. Griffin's speech was liberally applauded, but as a keynote it failed to bring out the enthusiasm that speeches of this kind are intended to do.

At the conclusion of his remarks the district call was ordered and the vice presidents and committees announced after which the convention adjourned to 10 o'clock to-morrow morning and a large number of the delegates went to the ball game.

GIVE HIM NO QUARTER.

Such is the Cry of Sherman Men Concerning Foraker.

Cleveland April 27.—The sensation of last night was caused by the dessensions that arose in the Sherman camp. The Sherman people are evidently in it to again win and if they have absolute control ex-Gov. Foraker and his following will get but little, if anything, except a cold snub beyond the possible single concession of allowing him to go as a delegate to the Minneapolis convention.

The more radical of the Sherman following have started the cry of down with harmony, thereby hoisting the black flag, which means down with Forakerism.

But this movement is not a spontaneous one on the part of what appears at this writing to be the dominant faction in the republican party.

As a matter of fact there are dissensions in the administration camp and, strange as it may appear in view of what has transpired in the past, Director General Hahn, who has been the supreme as the manager in Ohio prior to and since the late senatorial election in Columbus, is likely to be called down.

It is claimed that he has exceeded his authority in attempting to conciliate the Foraker contingent and strike a compromise in the matter of selecting delegates-at large to the Minneapolis convention

The radical wing of the Sherman faction insist that they do not propose to allow the fruits of a victory to be frittered away in this manner.. If they have won in the fight for delegates in the several parties they propose to realize to the full extent on the victory thus achieved and, therefore, they are unwilling to split even by selecting two Sherman men and two Foraker men as the delegates-at-large to the national convention.

The above is the substance of what was told by a Sherman man of the pronounced type and who was one of the first in the state to declare his opposition to Foraker. The gentleman declared that there was a determination to bury every attempt at harmony if it had to be bought through the recognition of the Foraker influence.

The radical Shermanites are unquestionably opposed to considering any proposition looking to a dividing of the honors with the ex-governor's friends, while the more conservative, including among the latter Chairman Hahn, are ready to conciliate.

Whether the radicals or conservatives in the administrative faction will prevail, or whether a split will occur in the dominant wing of the party remains to be solved by future developments.

It is believed the radical element, including the young and active Shermanites, and those who believe that to the victors belong the spoils, are in the majority, and, unless they can be pulled off by the managers, there is trouble ahead. The subject was not being openly discussed, but the sentiment in opposition to a compromise was well defined in the hotel lobbies and commented upon by experienced politicians as one of the things likely to add to the already complicated condition of affairs in the republican party.

THE CANDIDATES.

How the Contest for the Offices is Progressing.

Cleveland, April 27.—The canvass being made by Taylor, Wydman and Chester for secretary of state is attracting attention second only for the contest for delegates-at large. There never was a more persistent and systematic canvass made than is one being conducted by the Sherman managers in behalf of Mr. Taylor, chosen candidate. Fifteen men, paid strikers, are out with books in which the names of all the delegates elected from the eighty-eight counties are pasted. The preference of the delegates from each county is bing checked off and careful estimates of the strength of each candidate made.

Then the Sherman senatorial methods have been injected into the canvass. Adjoining the main room of the Taylor headquarters is a private apartment, termed the sanctum sanctorum, of which Chairman Hahn is in command, while it is said that on the next floor above is located the room, denominated by the opposition as the holy of holies, with a federal officeholder, Major Rathbone, in charge. Into these two rooms the lambs are led, much after the manner in which the legislators were brought to slaughter in the senatorial contest when John defeated Joe.

Both Wydman and Chester are making a thorough canvass, but not as systematic as their chief opponent. All three claim to be making gains, while the Shermanites boast that Taylor will be nominated on the first ballot.

The nomination for state board of public works apparently lies between Capt. Lyberger of Coshocton, and J. Park Alexander of Summit. In this contest there is scarcely a semblance of the senatorial factional lines. Its absence is a subject of comment among the politicians. Mr. Alexander is handicapped in the race because of the probability of the selection of Col. Conger of Summit as one of the delegates-at-large and the fact that Gov. McKinley is soon to appoint Mr. Perkins of Akron as chief engineer of the board of public works.

The contest for clerk of the court between Capt. Allen and U. H. Hester is an even race, with the advantage, so far as can be estimated with the delegates present, in favor of the former. At Mr. Hester's headquarters at the Forest City house Deputy Supreme Clerk Crow is an able lieutenant. He says that the passing of the new law relating to the supreme court, and dividing it into two sections, will complicate matters for a time, at least, so that it would be very difficult for a new clerk to satisfactorily manage the office. Si Allen has a host of enthusiastic supporters. Among them are the Athens delegation, consisting of L. M. Jewett, D. L. Sleeper, J. P. Wood, W. L. Kessinger, Louis Lampson and Dr. H. D. Danford. Gen. Grosvenor will arrive this morning from Cincinnati. The Athenians say that Allen is entirely competent to discharge the duties of the office of clerk of the supreme court, and they are unable to see why Mr. Hestor should be given nine years in one position. Mr. Allen's name will be presented to the convention by Mr. Ed Wallace, of Springfield. Among Mr. Hestor's active supporters are Mayor Balvert and Judge Daly, of Van Wert.

A new candidate for the supreme judgeship is announced late in the person of Judge David F. Pugh, of Columbus, whose qualifications are being presented by able lieutenants from the capital city. Judge Pugh had the distinction of carrying the strongest democratic district in the state, and has presided at two trials of national interest—the tally sheet forgeries and the Elliott murder trial. It is believed that the contest up to the time when Judge Pugh's friends entered him for the race was between S. A. Wildman, of Norwalk, Speaker Laylin's candidate, and Judge Jacob F. Burkett, of Findlay. There are some who insist that Judge and ex-Congressman Thompson, of Portsmouth, is still a formidable probability, but he was so intense in his enthusiasm for Sherman when the senatorial fight was on at Columbus that his canvass will be bitterly opposed by the Foraker forces. Judge Thompson was a candidate for the recently created federal circuit of appeals, but was unsuccessful, the place going to Will H. Taft, of Cincinnati, former solicitor general.

BIG SHERMAN VICTORY.

The State Committee Captured by 17 to 4

Cleveland, April 27.—The various district delegations have just held their meetings to elect members of the new state central committee, and which will have charge of this year's campaign. It is claimed by the Sherman managers that they have captured 17 out of the 21 members.

The Foraker element concedes its defeat without giving figures.

The retiring state committee has a Foraker majority of three.

LUCAS WAS IN THE FIGHT

Bonner Carries Off the Honers With Ease.

Tucker Votes with the Sherman Men and Emmick is a Big Toad in the Puddle.

Cleveland, April 27.—(Special)—The Lucas delegation caucused at 10 o'clock at the Kennard house. Mayor Emmick was unanimously chosen to preside and also to act as chairman of the delegation, and Dr. Skeels was made secretary.

The roll being called J. A. Barber, one of the delegates, was found to be absent, and a lively discussion arose as to who would fill the vacancy. The discussion became very heated, Messrs. Squire, Griffin, Cochran, Millard, Merrill and the rest of the boys airing their eloquence in opposition to a motion made that W. D. Jordan act as Barber's substitute.

Just as a vote was about to be taken Mr. Barber arrived. It was then found that Representative Heller was absent, and the same motion was made, ending in the seating of Jordan by a vote of 12 to 7.

The caucus adjourned and the district convention opened.

Senator Brigham named Mayor Emmick for chairman and he was elected by acclamation, returning thanks in a brief talk.

Jo Troup was chosen secretary.

Col. Brewer submitted a resolution as to the order of selecting officials and it went through. This brought on the election of the state committeeman.

Co Jos. C. Bonner, of Lucas, was named and Mr. Touvalle, of Bryan, nominated Senator Gever. The vote resulte Bonner, 28; Gever, 11.

Fulton and Ottawa counties voted for Gever, as did also Judge Millard, Squire and Griffin, of Lucas, while Bonner received the united support of Wood county and 17 of the Lucas delegation.

The Sherman men are consequently happy, the smiles upon the faces of Col. Waldorf and Mr. Flickinger being a yard long. The latter is laughing best because he is laughing last. Heller's absence was criticised and it is thought he is beginning to hedge.

Delegate Tucker voted with the Sherman men on all questions and so did his colleague, Mr. Wilson, of Wood, with his entire delegation.

This scrap being out of the way, the rest of the places were filled by acclamation, as follows:

Resolutions—W. W. Touville, Fulton.
Rules and Order of Business—W. L. Case, of Wood.
Permanent Organization—I. I. Millard, of Lucas.
Credentials—William Kelly, of Ottawa.
Vice President—W. H. Wetmore, of Wood.

The claim that Foraker has 12 adherents in the Lucas county delegation is evidently away off, and when it comes to a vote in convention there will not be half that number, as is plainly shown by the vote in the district convention. W. I. Squire still adheres to the support of Chester and is doing what he can in his behalf.

THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

No Contests and Everything Worked in Harmony.

Cleveland, O., April 27.—(Special)—The Fifth congressional district delegates met at the Weddell house. The meeting was very quiet. G. C. Williams, of Putnam county, was made chairman and J. M. Willets, of Williams, secretary.

The following selections were made without contest:

Vice-president—J. R. Ross, Paulding.
Credentials—J. C. McClung, Putnam.
Permanent organization—C. H. Masters, Williams.
Rules—F. C. Pfander, Defiance.
Resolution—R. C. Dewitt, Paulding.
Central committeemen—F. J. Shaw, Defiance.

THE TOLEDO GREEKS

Hold a Festive and Joyous Reunion,

And Recall Some of the Old Days,

When They Were Active in the College Fraternity—Success of the Second Banquet of the Toledo Pan-Hellenic Association.

All together, all together,
Once, once again;
Hearts and voices light as ever,
Gladly join the welcome strain.
Friendship's link is still unbroken,
Bright is its chain;
Where the parting word was spoken,
Now in smiles we meet again.
O, could we ever
Dwell in social pleasure here,
No more to sever
From the friends we love so dear.

Such was the very appropriate song on the first page of a little college reminder distributed to the guests at the second annual banquet of the Pan Hellenic society, held at the Toledo club last evening.

Here were gathered nearly fifty college men, all members of Greek Letter fraternities, and they were met together to renew, over the festive board, some of the old days. The assemblage was a notable one, as it was composed of men of culture, education and refinement, and they were of all ages, from the old gray haired and bald-headed fellows, who graduated some thirty years ago, to the boy fresh from college.

Some of the men present had achieved a high place in their different walks of life, while others had the future all before them, yet distinctions of age and the like were all thrown aside, and the feasters were boys again.

Before them rose visions of many a banquet of their fraternity, on a much smaller scale, memories of numerous initiation nights also came forward, the first of these nights being the most vivid, and some of the older men looked back with feeling to the days when their meetings were held in out of the way places and log chapter houses in the woods to avoid the persecution of the faculty and any spying intruder.

All these are memories, yet they were called up with gladness and not one present but felt pleasure in recalling his college days, especially with reference to the fraternity, even if some of them were almost forgotten.

The guests were seated in the spacious and elegant dining room of the Toledo club at about 8:30 and the evening was opened by a prayer from Rev. Dr. W. W. Williams.

A delicious and elaborate menu was then served and occupied the attention for about two hours. It was not without spice, however, as goodfellowship held the board, and many good stories, jokes and anecdotes were told between mouthfuls, while between courses the hall was made to ring with jolly college songs that never grow old. Such as

"Landlord fill the flowing bowl,
Until it does run over;
For to-night we'll merry, merry be,
And to-morrow we'll get sober."

This with the appropriate accompaniments at hand and many more of a like character gave inspiration that cannot be found outside of a group of college fraternity men.

Among the pieces rendered were "There's a Tavern in Our Town," "Vive L'Amour," "The Bull Dog on the Bank," "Jingle Bells," "Roll Jordan, Roll," "Swing Low," "Son of a Gambolier," and many more such classic ballads. The word classic is used advisedly, for were they not the songs of the Greeks?

The songs were the same that were sung by the oldest man present when he was at school and they seemed just as fresh in his mind as in that of the youngster who only sang them last year. The old boys also sang with as much vigor as the younger and in many ways showed the advantages of their experience.

The whole company joined in most of the songs with great vigor, but the solo and duet work of Messrs. Roff, Austin, Flickinger and Adams was highly appreciated.

During the early part of the evening some of the youngsters attempted to start up a few of the popular songs of the day, but they were flat failures and it was soon made evident that "Annie Rooney" was not in it with "Solomon Levi."

The following is a list of the gentlemen who cut these capers and spent such a happy evening together, not riding the fraternal "goat," but reaping the fruit of that "goat's" hide after it had served its purpose:

Hon. Frank Hurd, Rev. Dr. W. W. Williams, Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller, Rev. Emory W. Hunt, Charles G. Wilson, George P. Voorhis, J. Austin, jr., E. D. Potter, jr., F. L. Geddes, Karl A. Flickinger, F. E. Roff, W. P. Heston, Clair S. Adams, L. L. Barber, Charles E. Kent, Henry H. Cushing, Wm. Watts, John R. Calder, J. S. Martin, A. Blodgett, Carl H. Beckman, C. Locke Curtis, Robert H. Adams, Oliver Hiett, Harry W. Breckenridge, Alex W. Smith, J. R. W. Cooper, F. T. Berdan, Clayton O. Reed, Ralph S. Holbrook, George L. Thorne, John H. Draper, Will A. Clarke, S. Glenn McGaw, Hugh F. Schunck, Richard Waite, James A. Young, Frank J. Hoag, W. H. H. Smith, Emery R. Hiett, Oliver A. Snider, C. A. Thatcher, Charles T. Lewis, C. G. Balbu, A. M. Rawn.

After the good things to eat had disappeared and the coffee and cigars were well in hand there came another feast of good things to hear.

Mr. Alex. W. Smith, acted as toast master and presided in a very happy manner. In his opening remarks he alluded to the organization and aims of the college fraternity and he seemed to echo the sentiment of those present when he said that "In any community the college men are the best and the fraternity men are the best of the college men." He related a number of amusing anecdotes of college days, especially mentioning the tricks of the fraternity men in "rushing" for new members.

When the applause had subsided he introduced the Hon. Frank Hurd, who responded to the toast "The Greek in the Outer World," and the sentiment, "Noblesse Oblige."

Mr. Hurd also told of some of his early college experiences and then related how later in life, he and many other members made warm and valued friendships through having belonged to the college fraternity. He told of how many congressmen belonged to the Greek letter fraternity and spoke of the organization of the D. K. E. Congressional association, with 20 members of congress, and during his last year a banquet of all the fraternities was held in Washington, which was attended by over 500 members of congress. He spoke eloquently of the value of the fraternity in after life and closed with the sentiment, "The Pan-Hellenic association of Toledo—may it keep alive the fraternal and college spirit, and may it bring back to us some of the friendship and enthusiasm of those days, which when we look back to them, were the happiest days of our lives."

Mr. Hurd was frequently interrupted by applause as were all of the speakers, for the toasts were far above the average both in simple eloquence and sentiment.

Mr. James A. Young next spoke on the "Moral Power of the Fraternity," and he gave the college society a high place for his usefulness and influence for the good of its members. It teaches men how to deal with their fellows and effects much good that will never be told. He considered the institutions of learning that do not recognize the fraternity as behind the times.

Mr. Charles G. Wilson, "the Baldheaded Patriarch of the Toledo Society," as he was introduced, spoke for the "Old Boy," and his toast was rich and witty as all of Mr. Wilson's after dinner speeches are. He told in an amusing manner the trials of the youth passing through college, his ideals and aspirations and then the self possessed egotism of the senior when he graduates. Then as a companion picture he painted the triumphs of the "Old Boy" in after life, when he had realized how foolish he had been in his younger days, and concluded with some advice for the youngsters.

C. Locke Curtis answered for the "Old Girl" and explained what a necessary adjunct she was to college life and his recitation of experiences with her seemed to bring up many stirring recollections to the "Old Boys" present.

Rev. Emory W. Hunt, in speaking of the "Value of the Fraternal Sentiment," gave it a high place in the molding of men's characters. He also related many amusing stories of college life.

In speaking for "Our Mystic Beacon," Mr. Emery D. Potter, jr., pronounced a most eloquent eulogium on the republic as the great universal fraternity, closing with the sentiment, "Our Country—the mother of fraternities, the Mystic Beacon light of the world."

This concluded the program, but nearly another hour was spent in singing the old songs and listening to short impromptu orations from those called upon by the toastmaster, and many good stories were told and happy sentiments expressed. The speakers thus called upon were Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller, J. S. Martin, Oliver B. Snider, Henry H. Cushing, Ralph Holbrook, Carl H. Beckham, Dr. W. W. Williams and J. R. W. Cooper.

Then with "Auld Lang Syne" the happy session finished and all acknowledged the success of the banquet and felt younger and better for having been there.

WON FROM THE COWBOYS

Toledo Has Reached the Five Hundred Point.

Von Der Boom Ta Ra Ahe's Team Continues to Lose and the Distinguished German is Getting Excited.

The Cowboys went down before Dad Clarke yesterday and Toledo marks a game up to her credit. What hits Kansas City secured were scattered and the errors of the home team helped to swell Toledo's score, although the game was won on its merits. The score:

Toledo and Kansas City were the only clubs allowed to play in the Western yesterday, rain and wet grounds being the order in the other cities. In the League, Cincinnati again defeated Mr. Von Der Boom Ta Ra Ahe's club from St. Louis 10 to 6, Cleveland defeated Chicago 5 to 1, Philadelphia took a game from Washington 6 to 5, Pittsburg shut out by Louisville 6 to 0, Boston defeated New York 13 to 0, and Brooklyn won from Baltimore 12 to 10.

It was learned from a reliable source last night that there is to be a general shaking up in the St. Louis club. Glasscock's playing has been far from satisfactory to President Von der Ahe, and it is said that he will be relegated to the bench and Crooks will be assigned to his position. Bobby Caruthers, when not pitching, will play right in the field. But there is to be still a more important change. Perry Werden fell under the displeasure of the St. Louis president during one of the games at Pittsburg, and Mr. Von der Ahe stated that he would fine him $50 and then give him his release. The St. Louis club wants John Reilly to take his place, and negotiations are now in progress. It is not sure that the ex-Red Stocking player will want to go with the Browns, for he has one or two offers from other clubs, but if the salary is large enough "Long John" may accept.

Glasscock's playing has not been good, and what is more, he has been insolent to Mr. Von der Ahe on more occasions than one. Werden and Glasscock are the two highest salaried players in the team, and a change would cut down the expenses of the club materially.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

First Production of A Modern Husband —Florence Bindley Next Week.

The Detroit Free Press of yesterday says of A Modern Husband, which will be seen at Wheeler's next Thursday:

A Modern Husband, by Alfred Hennequin, was acted for the first time at the Detroit opera house last night. It is a four-act farce, and well written as farces go. Indeed, it is gemmed with good lines. Moreover, the situations are well contrived and the central idea—the transformation of a woman-hating devotee of science into a spirited man of the world—is peculiarly happy and effective. The author is a widely known exponent of the higher philosophy of dramatic construction. That Mr. Hennequin has done good work in A Modern Husband cannot be gainsaid. In truth, the greater part of it is admirable—especially in its literary aspect. The ultimate possibilities of it in what is technically known as stage business are yet in embryo. These are within the grasp only of a large experience in play-making. Farce of the order to which A Modern Husband belongs does not specially honor the stage; but being mirthful and harmless (save as it stands in the way of the worthier drama) it is cordially welcomed by the mass of those upon whom the theater is dependent for support. To sum up, the production A Modern Husband is an exceptionally well written farce.

The Pay Train.

Florence Bindley and a strong company will hold the boards at the People's theater next week in The Pay Train, a realistic comedy drama, with car loads of scenery and mechanical effects. The play is full of startling surprises, and among its sensational features are a railroad wreck, a coal mine, a boiler explosion and a train at full speed.

OAK HARBOR NOTES.

Oak Harbor, O., April 27.—(Special)—A small fire occurred here Sunday morning about 4 o'clock. Two barns containing quite an amount of hay, two valuable horses and a new double-seated carriage, and two large corn cribs containing about 400 bushels of corn were destroyed. The loss is roughly estimated at $900, all fully insured.

J. D. Buck has just received an elegant new cooler from Toledo to put in his new meat market.

ATTENDED THE WEDDING.

London, April 27.—Minister Lincoln and wife, and Hon. Charles Emory Smith and other noted Americans, were present today at the marriage at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge, of J. B. DaCosta Ricci and Miss Lily Freeman Schultze, of Philadelphia.

THE WAR IN VENEZUELA

Latest Advices From the Turbulent Country,

Where the People Are Fighting on the Streets.

American Men-of-War Called on to Protect Americans from the Ignorant and Savage Soldiers.

New York, April 27.—The steamship Caracas from Venezuelan ports arrived here to-day. The officers of the steamer refused to talk about the affairs in Venezuela and tried to create the impression that everything was quiet there.

The passengers, however, agree in their accounts of bloody engagements and say that a state of anarchy prevails.

The United Press reporter was informed that while the vessel was at Porto Cabelo the passengers were not allowed to go ashore as there was fighting between the forces of Palacio and the revolutionists around the town and vicinity.

The United States cruiser Newark was obliged to go to Laguagra to protect the Americans in that town.

The American consul had sent a request for the presence of the warship after several Americans had been arrested by the soldiers while walking the streets. The Americans were afraid they would be murdered by the ignorant soldiers.

Peasants from Caracas were being marched into the city with chains around their necks and guarded by soldiers of Palacio. These were provided with arms and forced to fight in the government ranks. On April 18, in a town called Petare there was a bloody riot following an attempt on the part of an agent of the Palacios to recruit for the army of Palacio. The citizens sympathized with the revolutionists and resisted the efforts of the government officers to recruit. In the rioting that followed the recruiting officers, several were cut to pieces in the street and the governor of the province, who attempted to subdue the revolt, was killed. Everything is at a standstill in Caracas because of the revolution. When the steamer left Caracas it was reported that a serious engagement had taken place outside the town between the troops of Palacio and the revolutionists in which it was said that 300 of the government troops were killed. The revolutionists were victorious.

At Porto Cabello, on the night of April 14, there was considerable firing in the streets which was kept up for several hours. Several people were killed, among them two of Gen. Mora's soldiers.

Is highly gratified with Hood's Sarsaparilla. He was badly run down, had no appetite, what he did eat caused distress and he felt tired all the time. A few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla effected a marvellous change. The distress in the stomach is entirely gone, he feels like a new man, and can eat anything with old-time relish. For all of which he thanks and cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is very important that during the months of March April May the blood should be thoroughly purified and the system be given strength to withstand the debilitating effect of the changing season. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar merit and it is the Best Spring Medicine.

We've Got the Grip!

On the pants trade of this city, and a firm one, too. It's style, quality, fit and price what we harp upon, and the Toledo people appreciate this pleasant tune. The suits we make to order at $15, $18, $20 and $25 our customers say that other tailors ask almost again as much for same goods. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it, so come and see for yourself.

Cleveland's Baking Powder, and the last spoonful does as good work as the first, are good reasons why Cleveland's has been a growing success for 22 years.

On April 27th, 1885, Charles Rowell began his record breaking sixty-hour walk—twelve hours a day—covering 362 miles and 528 yards.

Since then walking matches have risen and, to some extent, fallen in public favor, the public appetite for such exhibitions having been thoroughly satiated. Albert and Littlewood especially distinguished themselves by remarkable performances.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

A CLERGYMAN'S WIDOW GREW TIRED OF LIVING.

For An Age Mrs. Margaret Bethel Was in Terrible Agony.

At Last She Enjoys Life and Its Blessings, and Tells of Her Escape.

A dispatch from St. Paul yesterday says: During the past few months, Mrs. Margaret Bethel has been living at Brainerd, Minn. She is the widow of a Methodist clergyman of the Louisville, Ky., conference, and has many prominent friends in religious circles.

A week ago she wrote the following remarkable letter:

Mrs. Margaret Bethel.

"For years my life was such a burden that I almost prayed to lay it down. I have lived in fearful agony, caused by neuralgia in the head and rheumatism of the whole body.

"Every two weeks I had to take to my bed with such terrible pain in the head and back of my neck that it seemed as if I would go crazy. For days I would be so weak that I could scarcely walk.

"Several physicians tried in vain to help me. But nothing did me any good until about a year ago. Since then I have had hardly an attack of neuralgia, and my rheumatism is entirely cured. I thank God for Paine's celery compound, the only thing that helped me, and the sole means of my cure.

"I wish I could command language that would express my gratitude to those who prepare this compound, for the great benefit I have derived from its use. I can only say, may the Giver of all good bless and prosper them.

"I am able to do harder work, and more of it, to-day than for twenty-five years, and am really enjoying life again, thanks to Paine's celery compound. May many poor sufferers be led to use this remedy."

The St. Paul Globe, in commenting upon the case, says:

Here in St. Paul there are many who have proved by personal use that Paine's celery compound is a remedy that cures. It is a scientific preparation, the discovery of Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth College, and has done more to lessen suffering and heal disease than any other medicine known. It is folly for anyone who is sick, weak or debilitated, not to try this pure compound.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Bishop Horstman will very likely witness the performance of The Eileen Oge.

Prices will be 25, 35 and 50 cents, and seats will be on sale Thursday at Model clothing house for Eileen Oge.

The petition in error in in the case of A. J. Scott v. Manhattan Oil company has been filed in the common pleas court.

The Immaculate Conception Dramatic club will give a second presentation of "Eileen Oge" at Wheeler's opera house next Monday evening.

C. R. Lewis, who tried to give Judge Sala some instructions in police court yesterday, was arraigned for contempt of court this morning and fined $10 and costs.

Judging from the present outlook, the difficulties pending between the Claflin Paving company and John R. Miller will soon be settled and the case in all probability will never come to trial.

A Robison trolley wire broke at the corner of Superior and Adams streets this morning and created an excitement for a few moments. The repair wagon was soon on hand and no damage was done.

D. D. Headley, who was arrested charged with stealing Miss Hamilton's watch, was released this morning and the woman ordered to pay the costs, as the evidence showed it was a case of spite work.

DIED AT HIS POST.

Sad Accident Aboard the Big Ferryboat Cincinnati.

New York, April 27.—There was a panic on the ferryboat Cincinnati, of the Pennsylvania road, last night. Four persons were injured. The panic was caused by the boat crashing into the New York pier.

Signals to the engineer were not answered, and it was found that he had died at his post. The captain signalled for aid and some passing tugs came up and towed the ferryboat to her dock. The body of the engineer was mangled by falling into the machinery.

HIT BY MISTAKE.

Washington, April 27.—While the Corean minister and wife were out driving yesterday afternoon, a colored boy named Howard Quander, threw a stone at a youth on the opposite side of the street.

The missile went wide of its intended mark and struck the minister's wife on the left side of the face, inflicting a severe bruise. The boy was locked up.

"COMRADES! COMRADES!"

Annual Reunion of Sultana Survivors.

These Veterans in Session in For Post Hall To-day—The Camp Fire Will Gleam To-night.

Ford Post hall, on the East Side, is to-day the scene of a pleasant and at the same time pathetic reunion, the meeting of the survivors of the Sultana disaster.

The local committee, consisting of Comrades J. L. Barrett, Charles Harsch and George White of Ford post, assisted by the ladies of Ford Post auxiliary, have decorated the post room and made arrangements for the comfort of their guests in most excellent shape. The members in attendance from outside the city is about [illegible] in the main Ohio and Michigan men.

In the early morning of April 28, 1865, the steamer Sultana was plowing her way up the Mississippi river, freighted with passengers who wore the blue, hundreds of them emaciated, weak and ill, for they were men just released from long and weary months of captivity in southern prison pens. Their faces were set toward the north once more, and hope gave strength to their weakness as they thought of seeing home and loved ones once more.

History tells the rest—the shock, the explosion, the men struggling in the water which closed over their heads. "Unknelled, uncoffined and unknown," 1,500 ex-prisoners of war sank to the bottom of the Mississippi. That any escaped is the miracle.

As the years went by and the men who, as by miracle, escaped this death found themselves growing old and gray, they desired to meet one another, and so this organization of the survivors of the Sultana was founded, which is to-day celebrating its eighth annual reunion in Toledo.

Comrade Col. S. H. Raudebaugh, of Lindsey, is presiding over the meeting, and its minutes are being kept by Adjutant Wm. Fies, of Marion. The purse of the organization is in the safe keeping of Quartermaster L. W. McCrory, of Munger.

The report of Adjutant Fies shows an enrollment of 93 members in the association. Of these only 32 had paid up dues at the time of making the report, and $105 is the amount of delinquent dues to date.

Quartermaster McCrory's report showed a balance of $69.99 on hand at the close of last year's reunion; balance on hand to-day $58.51.

Comrade Berry, who had been commissioned to gather the records of the survivors and collate a history of the Sultana disaster, reported that his manuscript was in the hall with him and ready for the printers. The cost of preparing it had been $150, and the best terms secured for publishing is $376 for 1,000 copies. The question of copyrighting the work was raised, and also of its publication, and was referred to a committee of three—W. P. Madden, Jos. Stevens and P. L. Horne.

Comrades Morgan, Hink and Horner were appointed a committee on memoirs and resolutions before the noon adjournment.

Reports of committees, election of officers and other routine work occupied the afternoon session.

This evening the visitors and the members of Ford post will "meet around the camp fire" and patriotic speeches and reminiscences of battle-field, prison, march, disaster and victory will be in order.

A MONARCH AMONG SAWS.

It Will Cut Through Nickel-Steel Armor as if It were Cheese.

Carnegie, Phipps & Co. are about to add to the finishing plant of the armor department of their Homestead mill a gigantic tool which will greatly expedite the delivery of armor plates for the new war ships. It is a steel saw, weighing 110 tons, that will cut nickel-steel armor plate as an ordinary saw walks through a plank. These armor plates range in weight from eight to thirty- eight tons, and reach a length of 20 feet and a thickness of 20 inches. The armor of a modern war vessel cannot be put on like a sock, all in one piece. It is built on the frame of the ship, rather like the scales on a fish. In finishing the plates, ready for fitting, they have to be bevelled along the edge where they fit together. This has been done heretofore with planing machines, which slowly and laboriously, a shaving at a time, cut them down to the desired shape. This saw has a blade seven feet and a half in diameter, geared from above and revolving horizontally. The armor plate is placed on a titling table which is adjustable to any angle, and presented to the edge of the saw endwise. The forward motion of the carrying table thrusts the plate steadily against the flying teeth and an angular slab of cold nickel-steel, weighing perhaps a dozen tons, is taken off like the slab of a pine log. It will be used also for cutting plates into any desired dimensions.

This saw will be the first of its kind used in this country. It is an improvement on a similar tool used in the Krupp cannon works at Essen. It cost about $35,000 and will be set up early next month. new.—Pittsburg Times.

THEY RIOTED.

Police and Socialists Meet in an Italian Town.

Rome, April 27.—At Raggio, a town including suburbs, of about 60,000 population, in northern Italy, the socialists started to parade the streets to-day. They were joined by workmen from the silk factories and marched in procession, singing "The Workingmen's Hymn."

They shouted and created such disorder that the police ordered them to disperse. The socialists refused to go and the police attacked them, capturing the ringleaders and dispersing the remainder.

WANT A POSTPONEMENT.

London, April 27.—A dispatch from Melbourne says that Mr. Lyle, counsel for F. B. Deeming, the murderer, applied today at the Central criminal court for a postponement of the trial, set down for tomorrow, to obtain evidence from England as to Deeming's insanity.

Ohio—Fair, followed by light showers on the lakes; slightly warmer; southeast gales.

Indiana and Illinois—Severe thunderstorms this afternoon; clearing and cooler Thursday; southerly winds, becoming westerly.

Michigan and Wisconsin—Severe thunderstorms; southeasterly winds; clearing; much colder Thursday afternoon or night.

RAW AS BEEF-STEAK

Baby's Fearful Suffering from Skin Disease Covering Entire Body Cured by Cuticura.

My baby was taken very sick when he was three months old, and in a few days began breaking out. We employed both of the home doctors, and they could do nothing for him. Then we sent for the best doctor in Eaton Rapids, Mich., and he doctored him for two weeks, and he got worse all the time; and then I took him to Jackson, to a doctor who attends especially to skin diseases and then he got worse than ever. Then I told my husband we had better try the CUTICURA REMEDIES any way; did not have any idea they would do any good, but in less than two months from the time we began giving them to him he was entirely well and not a spot on him. His hair began growing right off, and we thought he would always be baldheaded. There was not a spot on his whole body, face and head, only his nose and eyes but what was as raw as beef-steak. So poor there was not anything but bones, and so weak he could raise neither hand nor head.

MRS. FRANK BARRETT, Winfield, Mich.

In or out of office Foraker has power to tack up a deal of a row.

The Great American Prevaricator is in attendance at the Cleveland republican convention. His other name is Emmick and he is called Mayor of Toledo.

The mayor of Bangor, Me., issued official proclamation closing all saloons on Monday, election day. This, viewed at a distance from the prohibition state, seems a very unnecessary proceeding, but presumably the mayor of Bangor knows better what is sold in his town than we do.

The legislature of Montana failed to prescribe the manner in which presidential electors shall be chosen in that state, as the federal constitution requires. As the next session of the legislature is fixed for January, '93, a special session must be called, or Montana will have no electoral vote this year.

Mr. Griffin's speech as temporary chairman of the republican state convention was a weak sophomorical effort, not nearly so good as Mr. Griffin is capable of preparing. The political portion is a lot of platitudes strung together to fill space. Read it and see if this criticism is not just.

A Columbus correspondent says "McKinley is really not governor, except in point of advertisement. Private Secretary Boyle, Chairman Hahn and Joe Smith really run the office in the interest of John Sherman." Guess there is much truth in this, but Mc is a great poser and an elegant figurehead of a badly battered protection party.

"The republicans of the state are not divided into factions," says the morning Toledo expositor, "but ex-Governor Foraker will not be permitted to humiliate the grand old party by the election of delegates at large who are unworthy." If Mr. Foraker accepts the ultimatum offered him, "the party will be spared the disgrace of an open factional rupture." This is pretty good evidence of the kind of harmony that exists in the party in Ohio. To be sure, according to this reading, the democrats are creating the factions, on paper, for political effect! They are making a pretty successful job of it.

Dr. Tobey has accepted the superintendency of the Toledo asylum, as was exclusively announced in the Bee last night. As a change was determined upon the friends of the unfortunates in the asylum will be glad that Dr. Tobey is returned to his old place. The treatment of insanity contemplates more than good executive ability. It is a study, a life work, and politics should have no more to do with it than it has with selling dry goods. There are few persons in this country who have a greater reputation than Dr. Tobey in this specialty, and so long as he is willing to sacrifice outside business relations that would net him much more money, Ohio ought to keep him at the head of its best asylum.

The New Chicago university bids fair to leave the traditions and customs of eastern seats of learning far behind, from the beginning of its course. Thanks to the munificence of Mr. Rockefellar it will start in with such financial resources as will preclude monetary embarrassments. The corps of professors and teachers that is being gathered assure the high order of its training. No garden spot of America is fairer than its location. Its head, President Harper, is a man of affairs as well as a learned man, and he has courage to insist that the university shall be in all respects a co-educational institution, and to carry that position to its logical conclusion, which is that women shall be given places on the faculty, and a share in all the work of the university.

Ex-Gov. Ames, of Massachusetts, was turned down in his aspirations to be a delegate-at-large to Minneapolis, and was generally served with a notice that he will be read out of the party, next thing he knows. A number of our eastern exchanges seem to be wasting pity upon Mr. Ames. As a manufacturer whose profits are clipped in one direction by the McKinley tariff, and as a business man able to see what hurts him, Mr. Ames has protested against the tariff on raw material. On the manufactured article he has to sell he wants the tariff continued, and to a reporter who asked him if he would now withdraw his allegiance from the high protection party he answers: "Certainly not, I am still a republican, and believe in the principles of the republican party." The Globe wastes ink in advising Mr. Ames to "join the party which believes in the principles in which he believes himself." He does not believe in the principles of the democratic party. He is still a good and consistent republican, putting self interest before principle. Let him remain with the party of special privileges to some and equal opportunities to none.

It has been a number of years since Wood and Fulton counties were combined with Lucas in congressional relations. The republicans of the older class, and not so very old, either, remember the propensity of Lucas to take everything in sight, and want more. At the first convention in the new Ninth district, on Monday, the old and new republican leaders of Wood and Fulton learned that Toledo republicans are still of the porcine order. It was the meanest kind of snubbing for a Lucas delegate to boast, in open convention, that Toledo having the votes it would do as it pleased. That kind of politics may afford a convention advantage, but the elections are quite another thing to be taken into account.

The Bee calls attention to the selfishness of Toledo republicans for the purpose of warning democrats against similar practices. The brethren in Wood and Fulton, as in Ottawa, are a big hearted, loyal lot of workers. Their interests should be consulted and deference should be paid to their desires. A united democracy in these four counties will be able to elect a democratic congressman in November.

Last Friday the sandsucker owned by the company was disposed of to Buffalo parties and the balance of the effects will be closed out soon.

INSURANCE SUIT.

John Craig Wants Pay for His Burned Steamer.

In common pleas court to-day John Craig sued the Detroit Fire and Marine Insurance company for $1,000, and the Milwaukee Mechanics Insurance company for $1,500, for insurance on the steamer Jennie, which was destroyed by fire in this harbor last winter.

THE PRESQUE ISLE DIRECTORS

Hold a Meeting and Engage the Geary Comedy Company.

Last evening the directors of the Presque Isle company met and after accepting the proposition of the Pastime people, resolved to engage the James Geary Comedy company to open the season, probably about June 10.

All the boat privileges were awarded to J. W. Fonner. The privileges of the island have not yet been awarded but will be in a short time. There are numerous bids in for the restaurant and refreshment stands.

The Pastime will make her first trip of the season on Decoration Day.

RESERVE AND ITS USES.

Paper Read and Discussed at the New Century Club Meeting.

Capt. and Mrs. C. T. Bateman entertained the New Century club last evening. Mrs. A. M. C. Barnes presided over the meeting and Mrs. Ellen S. Fray was essayist. Her subject was "Reserve and Its Uses," and was admirably treated. The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday evening, May 10, with the Misses Law, 1231 Huron street, when Mr. H. B. Tillinghast will give the paper. The subsequent May meeting of the club will be with the president, Mrs. Frances Jermain, and will be the last before the summer vacation.

MRS. KLINGE'S FUNERAL.

The Burial Will Be in Collingwood Cemetery, West Toledo.

The funeral of Mrs. Jeannetta F. Klinge will occur to-morrow afternoon. There will be services at her late residence, with her daughter, Mrs. Rosa L. Segur, 916 Broadway, at 2 o'clock. The burial, which will be private, will be in Collingwood cemetery, West Toledo, where many of the pioneers of the Maumee valley sleep.

Friends of the family are invited to the service at the house.

A telegram from Mrs. Segur Foster, of Dallas, Texas, conveys the information that she cannot reach Toledo in time for the funeral.

DAYTON VISITS TOLEDO.

Her Board of Equalization in Search of Knowledge.

Messrs. David A. Houck, president; Samuel W. Davis, vice president, and Chas. H. Bosler, clerk of the Dayton board of equalization, are in the city today seeking facts from the members of the Toledo board of equalization here.

The gentlemen called on Mr. Burdick and were given what information he could give.

Mr. Davis is much interested in the natural gas fight in Dayton and is also hunting up facts on matters pertaining to that subject.

Dayton, Mr. Davis says, was shut out by the Standard company altogether and proposes keeping it out until it sees fit to come to time.

PERFECTING ARRANGEMENTS

For the Reception to Bishop Horstmann Next Sunday.

Last evening the executive committee in charge of the reception to Bishop Horstmann met and further perfected arrangements. It was decided to change the line of march so as to pass St. Peter's church, St. Clair street.

The committee on decoration thought $250 would be sufficient to cover all expenses, and the same was allowed.

Numerous affirmative replies to invitations were received, and almost all the parishes and societies of the surrounding towns will be present.

The general reception committee will leave Saturday evening for Cleveland and will return with Bishop Horstmann to Toledo Sunday.

AMONG THE BUILDERS

Interesting Notes of General Interest to the Public.

Lee Winters is erecting a new residence on Monroe street in Auburndale.

Mr. George Hughs is erecting a new residence on Bishop street.

The Monroe street barns have been offered for sale.

Mr. John Parson is going to erect a fine block on Monroe street, between Baumgardner block and Smead avenue. The first floor will be used for store purposes and the second floor for flats. This will improve the looks of Monroe street to a great extent.

There will be a grand ball given Friday evening at Baumgardner's hall for the benefit of Ed Chaffee, who was so seriously hurt at the Licorice factory.

The Auburndale K. of P.'s will move into their new building next week. Pythian building is progressing finely.

ST. MARGARET'S GUILD

Entertains the New Rector of St. Paul's and His Wife.

Last night at St. Paul's Episcopal church, East Side, St. Margaret's guild of young ladies gave an entertainment in honor of Rector Sage and his wife. The following young ladies constituted the reception committee: Misses Dora Birkenhaur, Maggie Nostrant, Lillie Spies, Mamie Mack.

Refreshments were served and greatly enjoyed by the guests, the table committee being Misses Bertha Drummond, Lottie Lafayette, Belle Palmer and Ethel Evans.

A musical program was well rendered, its numbers being a solo, "Don't come Wooing in the Morning," Miss Lillie Spies; solo, "Jeanette's Choice," Miss Mamie Mack; duet, "Gathering Roses," Miss Emma A. Tambling, church organist, and Miss Katie Evans, with chorus by the young ladies of the church choir.

It was a delightful evening for all who participated, and brings St. Paul's new rector and his young wife into acquaintanceship with the young people of the church.

MARRIED AT TRINITY.

A Very Pretty Wedding of Well-Known People.

A very pretty and quiet wedding occurred this morning at Trinity church at nine o'clock, when Miss Daisy Shepler and Mr. Will Wilmington were united in marriage by Rev. Charles Scadding.

The bride was charming in a blue cloth costume with hat to match and carried brides roses.

Mrs. Shepler was attired in a heliotrope gown and Miss Shepler in tan and green. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a short western trip and upon their return they will be at home at 901 Huron street.

The guests from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Shepler, of Perrysburg, and Mrs. McKnight, of Findlay.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmington were the recipients of a large number of magnificent wedding presents. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for future happiness and prosperity.

THE DAMAGE SUIT

Of McCullough Against Seney Dismissed at the Plaintiff's Cost.

The case of Samuel G. McCullough against Joshua Seney, which has been pending in common pleas court for some time, has been dismissed at the plaintiff's cost. The defendant noted an exception to the entry.

THROWN FROM HIS BUGGY.

Frank Roff Quite Seriously Injured in an Accident.

Mr. Frank Roff was quite seriously injured in a runaway this morning. As he was driving on Summit street, his horse became frightened by stepping on a street car track which was charged. The animal started to run and M. Roff was thrown from the carriage and struck the curb, cutting his face and otherwise bruising himself.

BIG VERDICT.

Amanda Biglee Wins Her Case in Common Pleas.

In Common Pleas court to-day the jury in the case of Amanda Biglee against Effie M. Overmiller returned a verdict of $3,750 damages for the plaintiff.

It was an action to recover $5,000 for alleged mal-practice, by which the plaintiff claims to have been injured by a surgical operation performed by the defendant.

DROPPED DEAD.

Sudden End of a Middle Aged German of Heart Disease.

Henry Huldebrich, a German who had only been in this country about seven months, died very suddenly about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon while sitting in a yard at the corner of Dix and Colburn streets.

Heart disease was evidently the cause and the coroner will hold an inquest this afternoon.

Huldebrich was 47 years old and leaves a wife and two children in the Fatherland. He had been boarding at 427 Walbridge avenue.

THE WHEREABOUTS OF POPE.

Clarence Brown Brings Information Concerning Him.

Mr. Clarence Brown returned from New York this morning. On the train he met Mr. A. W. Colton, who informed him that he (Colton) had met A. E. Pope in Buffalo Sunday. "Don't you think you were mistaken," Mr. Brown asked him. "Mistaken, no. I have known Pope for 20 years and I could no more be mistaken in him than I could be in you."

Mr. Colton says he spoke to Pope and Pope, who seemed somewhat embarrassed, saluted in return.

He has no doubt at all but that it was Pope. Mr. Colton returns to Toledo this evening.

THE NEW HARBORMASTER

To Take Hold Next Monday, When Capt. Skeldon Retires.

Capt. John Skeldon, who has been an efficient harbarmaster for the year just past, will relinquish the duties of that office Saturday night and Capt. John O'Connor will at once take hold.

The men on the Cherry street bridge will leave at the same time as their chief, the day crew finishing Saturday night and the night crew at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, when new men will fill their places.

As harbormaster Capt. Skeldon has been a complete success, and he has performed the duties of the office with ability and judgment, so that he gave universal satisfaction and leaves with a good record.

DR. BAXTER TALKS

Asylum Business and the Candidacy of Layton.

Dr. Baxter, of the board of asylum trustees, was in the city this morning.

In conversation with a Bee relative to an appointment of steward, the doctor said:

"No, there has been no appointment and neither will there be until Dr. Tobey gets into the harness, and thoroughly down to business. Nothing will be done in a hurry in this matter."

"About politics? I have paid very little attention to politics of late. But as to congressional possibilities in our district, if Layton wants the renomination it will be tendered him on a platter."

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE.

Miss Bailey's Pupils Give an Excellent Entertainment.

Last evening at Pythian Castle the pupils of Miss Marguerite Bailey gave a capital musical entertainment for the benefit of St. Paul's M. E. church.

The attendance was large and the program as presented was about perfect in its execution.

Margaret Hodge, a child of 8 years, is a musical prodigy. Her playing was marvelous for a child.

The program was as follows:

Duet—Valse Braroure, Litoff—Misses Harmon and Sanborn.

Traumriri, Shumann—Olive Eddy.

Vocal—Where is Another Sweet? Sullivan; The Vow, Meyer-Aelmund—Mrs. A. D. Scammell.

Tarantelle, Morey—Bertha Daley.

Les Cloches, Burgmuller; Sylphes, Burgmuller—May Callaway.

Gavotte, Jacobsen—Mary G. Waite.

Vocal—Oh! Promise Me, De Roven—Mr. C. L. Lewis.

Lullaby, Morey; Scherzo, Kullok—Margaret Hodge.

Vocal duet—Crucifix, Faure—Messrs. Colton and Lewis.

Gigue, Bach; The Mill, Josephy—Esther Harmon.

Vocal—Always Together, Malloy—Mrs. A. D. Scammell.

Staccato Etude, Bohm; Pavane, Sharp—Hattie Lang.

Vocal—Heaven Hath Shed a Tear, Kucken—Mr. George Colton.

Wellensneil, Emery—Margaret Hodge.

Duet—Brautgesang, Jensen—Misses Harmon and Sanborn.

Messrs. Lewis and Colton kindly donated their services. Both were in excellent voice and sang delightfully. Too much credit cannot be given Miss Bailey and her very apt and skillful pupils. Every one showed that excellent training and careful cultivation which goes to make up a musician. The musicale was a pronounced success.

CURRENT COMMENT.

There may be some things as worthless as an American congress in a presidential year, but it is difficult to call them to mind on short notice—Minneapolis Tribune.

Earthquake shocks occurred in Chile as well as in California and a German scientist who predicted the Chilean seismic disturbances announces repetitions to-day and next Tuesday. What's the matter on the Pacific slope of the New World?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There are a great number of republicans in Ohio, but hardly a sufficient number to justify two republican parties.—Washington Post.

The Wyoming cattlemen are the first people we ever heard of who were arrested because they would not sit down and submit to being robbed without resistance.—New Orleans New Delta.

The idea that doctors and lawyers should not advertise has nothing behind it except sentiment and custom. The sentiment which forbids it is a beautiful one, but it has almost run its course. Lawyers who ten years ago would have frowned down the merest semblance of advertising now keep standing cards in many legal journals.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The democrats will be puzzled to select a candidate for vice-president, but if ex-Gov. Campbell, of Ohio, craves the honor it is safe to say he can get it. Gray, of Indiana, now seems the most available man, but there is no chance of the democrats carrying Indiana this year, and this fact will militate against him.—St. Louis Star Sayings.

Republican regard for the negro was shown by the results of the Des Moines election. The republicans carried their whole ticket with the exception of a colored nominee, over whom much ado had been made during the city campaign. The only solution of the mystery possible is that the colored candidate was extensively scratched by republican voters. It will require an immense amount of explanation and soft soap to get the negroes of Des Moines back into the party ranks by the time their votes are required for another election.—Chicago Herald.

THE LOON IS AGAIN FREE

Captain Le Fevre Turns Him Loose on the Lake.

Vessel Freight Rates on a Firm Basis.

The Ice Jam at Duluth—Vessel Passages Through the Strait and River—All the General and Local News.

Chicago, April 27.—(Special Marine Service)—The gloomy outlook in lake business was materially changed yesterday by better figures being paid for carrying both grain and iron ore.

Owing to the small number of boats seeking grain cargoes here, vessel agents succeeded in getting 2 cents for wheat to Buffalo, while the price of carrying a ton of ore from Escanaba to Lake Erie advanced from 65 to 70 cents, while the season contract price was 95 cents to $1.

Duluth grain shippers freely offering 3 cents on wheat to Buffalo. One cause of the change for the better was the ice blockade on Lake Superior and the breakage of the Soo locks, which have resulted in tying up a fleet of not less than 50 large carriers.

Whether or not the present advances will be maintained will depend upon the iron trade. Grain shippers yesterday we renot confident that the forward movement of grain would be particularly large for some time yet. If the iron ore absorbs the boats, fair rates on grain may be maintained. Otherwise a large fleet may knock rates off to 1 cent a bushel all around at any time. Charters yesterday were: To Buffalo—Florida, Denver, wheat; Tom Adams, R. P. Ranney, corn, Arabia, corn and oats. Totals: Wheat, 98,000 bu; corn, 170,000; oats, 70,000.

The Lake Loon.

The mysterious creature, the lake loon, was the cause yesterday morning of a large sized row between two gentlemen in marine circles who have hitherto been staunch friends. Capt. LeFevre told Daniel Deegan, the supplyman that he could have the great sea fowl if he would promise to take the greatest care of it and let it go in a few days. Deegan, not appearing to claim the prize, Capt. Lefevre tild James Coughlin, the grain trimmer, he could have it. Monday morning Deegan went on board LeFevre's fishing schooner and got the mascot. He carried it around town in his wagon showing it off. Early yesterday morning Deegan and Coughli met o LaSalle street and almost came to blows over the ownership of the loon. While they were quarreling Capt. LeFevre came upon the scene. He said he had repented giving the storm bird into any other hands than his own; that he and his wife were afraid that it might be killed or fret itself to death, and that would bring everlasting bad luck to them. His wife would give him no peace until the creature was set at liberty and he must have it. Both Deegan and Coughlin were enraged at this outcome, but finally agreed. The loon was got at Deegan's house and the party accompanied by Mrs. LeFevre went down to the lake at the foot of Van Buren street and let it go. Mrs. LeFevre said: "No one could ever have God's blessing who would kill that creature. Why, it has been warning mariners for 27 years past, to our knowledge, of the approach of sudden severe storms, and it has been a special friend to the captain, only the old fool never appreciated the fact until I talked to him last night."

When tossed into the water his loonship stood straight up, neck and beak pointing heavenward and disappeared from view, tail first. A moment later he came up and scooted away, flying and swimming to the eastward.

Life Savers.

Capt. St. Peter had his crew of life savers out in the lake yesterday for drill. They had the sailboat and one of the lifeboats, and they practiced on accidents in all sorts of ways, capsizing the sailboat and all that. People from the shore who witnessed these drills and saw the sailboat bottom up, with met clinging to the bottom, generall jumped to the conclusion that a serious accident had occurred, and not infrequently telephoned or telegraphed messages, or sent to the police stations, and word was sent ti the life saving station. Fears are expressed that time will come when a sail-yacht is really in distress and that people will not report the matter.

A. Mosher, of West Troy, N. Y., well known in marine circles on the lakes, was in the city yesterday on his way home from Seattle.

ROBISON MEN WITHDRAW

From Recently Established Insurance Association.

The Members Claim They are Being Victimized and Will Not Submit—The Company is Notified.

The members of the insurance and beneficial association organized among the employes of the Robison street car lines have entered a protest against the operation of the organization and notify the company that they will withdraw as soon as the present term has expired.

Under existing rules a man laid off for sickness is entitled to $10.50 a week benefits and to $1,000 insurance in case of death, etc.

Many of the members complain that the sick benefit system has been and is being abused. A man lays off a day or a week because he feels like taking a holiday, and he is reported sick, but he gets his allowance just the same.

The members have notified the company that there has been too much of this kind of work and they will withdraw.

The part of the insurance system now in vogue which protects the company against all losses arising from accidents, etc., will remain in force.

The association takes out an annual protection policy of $200,000 and pays the premiums. In case of a death the company pays nothing. The claim is presented to the attorney of the organization, and the insurance company in which the policy is held pays the damages.

Some of the men are kicking on this feature, too, but the great majority favor it, as they say it makes men more careful of the property and human lives.

TO GREET THEIR GUESTS

Preparations for the Y. M. C. B. A. Meeting in August.

Joint Session of the St. Cecelia Society and the Young Men's Catholic Benevolent Association Last Evening.

Last evening the Young Men's Catholic Benevolent association and the auxiliary branch of young ladies—the St. Cecelia society—met at Friendship hall for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual convention of the I. C. B. U., which is to be held in this city next August.

President P. H. Sugrue called the meeting to order and said that after the general routine work of the regular meeting had been transacted the special feature for which the meeting had been called would be discussed.

After the initiation of new members the joint committee of the two societies appointed to arrange for the convention, adjourned to the ante-room to organize and present a report.

A recess of half an hour was taken during which the members enjoyed an impromptu musicale and dance.

J. J. Whelan, when the meeting reconvened, stated that the joint committee had organized by the election of Mr. J. J. Murphy as chairman and Mrs. Walker as secretary.

This was all that had been done and the committee, he said, desired some suggestions.

The subject was discussed at length and the following committee was finally appointed to have full charge of the arrangements:

J. J. Murphy, J. J. Whelan, W. C. Coyle, W. J. McGinnis, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Higgins, Miss Delia Maunsy and Miss Josie Meaney. The committee will report from time to time as the situation warrants.

Arrangements were made for turning out in a body next Sunday at the reception tendered Rt. Rev. Bishop Horstman on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Immaculate Conception church.

The following were appointed a committee to secure appropriate badge: J. J. Whelan, W. J. McGinnis and Thomas Rooney.

After a vote of thanks to the ladies for their attendance the meeting adjourned.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

is a revelation in medicine. Do not confound it with other Emulsions. It differs from them all, and supersedes Cod Liver Oil or any of its preparations. They are foods. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is food and medicine. Its success in the treatment of and all other Throat and Lung troubles, is unprecedented. It is entirely acceptable to the most delicate stomach, never nauseates or distresses the patient, and while it contains all the curative properties of the crude oil it is almost as tasteless as water.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a genéral family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

A convict made his escape at Brenham, Tex., a few days ago, in a curious manner. With a number of others he was working on a railroad embankment. When none of the guards were looking, the convict lay down in a hollow made by the spades. The gang near him threw dirt over him until he was completely covered. When camp was reached and the roll called the escape was discovered. He has not been captured.
The king of Italy has a perfect fancy for attending fires. The other evening he was due at the German embassy, where Count Solms gave a ball. Her majesty, Queen Margaret, radiant in a toilet of pale yellow silk, and dazzling with superb diamonds, came alone, and stated that his majesty the king had gone to a fire which had broken out at a manufactory of macaroni and Italian paste, and he remained at the scene until the flames were subdued.
The Irish hero, Fingal, had the felicity to be under his own thumb, that member serving as a danger signal, aching in a peculiar way when trouble impended, when he had only to put it into his mouth to become immediately instructed how to overcome the difficulty of the hour. So, by the pricking of her thumbs, telling her "something wicked this way comes," did the weird sister know of Macbeth's approach before her ears caught his footfall.
A Chinese guide to the English language, compiled by a learned celestial, has been published in Peking. The student of this quaint little volume, however, will not make himself easily understood in English conversation by using such sentences as the following: "Diligent learn of English words no difficult. To do good virtues become rich and know. He himself no have got. Fear inside have little false. Run come too much refugee. Can do biting. Why you count want mistake."

DUCKY WIVES TO UNDER.

"Such opportunities for matrimony as were offered me in New Guinea a few years ago I never expect to enjoy again," said Artist Sherman F. Denton of the United States fish commission to a reporter.

"My journey through the land of the Papuans was made for the purpose of collecting specimens of all sorts, such as a naturalist seeks to gather, but the people themselves are the most interesting savages I have ever met.

"The men and children go about entirely naked, while the women wear only short grass petticoats. I employed a young black fellow named Roboor to help me in my work.

"His hair was a bush of kinky fuzz, and stood up on his head in a mass as big as half a bushel measure. I found out that he was in love, but he admitted with a sigh that he was too poor to marry the girl of his choice.

"'You are young and strong,' said I. 'Why do you not go to work and earn enough to support yourself and your sweetheart?'

"'You do not understand,' he replied. 'I have a good garden that would supply what food we wanted; besides, I can throw the spear farther and truer to the mark than any other man in this district, so that I can get plenty of kangaroos and pigs.'

"'But they will not buy the girl. Her mother wants an axe for her, and that I cannot grow in my garden or hunt in the forest with my spear.'

"The poor fellow groaned, made several disparaging remarks on his prospective mother-in-law, and finally said that if he did not love the young women so dearly he would go away and never come back again.

"'But, my boy, you need not despair,' said I. 'If the possession of an axe will secure your happiness I will give you one. I want many paradise birds, for in my country people think more of them than of axes.

"'If you will help me get as many birds with the long plumes as you have fingers on both your hands you shall have the axe on the day we get the last one.'

"He accepted the proposition delightedly. At length, with his assistance the ten good birds were procured and the axe earned. I was present when Roboor bought his wife with it. They were married the following morning, the ceremony being concluded with a wild dance and singing by a chorus of girls.

"Papuan girls are sometimes very pretty. Once, when out shooting, I met a strikingly handsome young woman. She was frightened at first and turned to run away, but I quieted her fears with a small offering of beads. I should judge that she was 16 or 17 years old, rather tall, of fine figure, and as supple and graceful as a swan.

"She was very light, and the warm blood glowed through the brown color of her skin. Her hair was brown and curly, and clustered about her face in the most attractive manner. Her eyes were dark, with a mischievous twinkle; her nose was straight, and her mouth, handsome enough for a Venus, had a dimple at each corner when she laughed. Altogether she was a beauty.

"One day, after we had been in the country a good while and were able to talk pretty well in the Papuan language, a friendly native named Lohier came to us with something important to say. After receiving assurances from us that we liked the people and the region, considering the latter as beautiful and fertile as any we had ever seen, he asked:

"'Do you possess wives in America?'

"'No,' we replied.

"'Have you sweethearts?'

"'No; we have had, but they are all married.'

"'How do you like the Papuan girls?'

"'Some of them are very handsome and pleasing.'

"'Would you like to get married in New Guinea?'

"'That depends on circumstances.'

"'How much do you pay for a wife in America?'

"'Some are very expensive and others very cheap. Usually the expense comes after they are married. The parents of some girls are so anxious to dispose of their daughters that they buy husbands for them.'

"'Would you marry any you have seen here?'

"Hardly. You see, Lodier, we came a long, long distance to get to New Guinea, and as we are rich and very good-looking, we ought to have the best your country affords.'

"At that Lohier started up with a whoop and a yell and was off. We went on with our work, thinking no more about the matter.

"As we were preparing our dinner one afternoon a titter and a giggle were wafted to our ears. Looking around we beheld Lohier in the midst of a group of 15 or 20 girls, many of them of superior beauty, who were laughing and peering at us over each other's shoulders.

"They all wore flowers in their hair, and bands of green leaves adorned their arms and ankles. Each maiden had on her best striped petticoat, and some necklaces of dogs' teeth.

"At length Lohier, stepping forward, said that he had been a long way, had visited the biggest towns of his country, and had brought back with him the most beautiful women of his nation. He hoped we would each select one that would please us, marry her and settle down in New Guinea. The parents of some of the girls had come also, and were standing in the background.

"Our friend explained to us that the prices were high, as they were the finest girls in the land. He arranged them all in a giggling line, that they might be seen to the best advantage. Beginning with the first, he told their names and gave their different accomplishments.

"'This young lady's name is Mime. She can sing, dance, work in the garden, cook kangaroo, and is good tempered. The price for her is a knife and a looking-glass. What do you say to her?'

"'What about the next?' we asked.

"'This one's name is Dimena. She is handsome, very shapely, and has nice hair and eyes. Her father is rich, and she can make earthern pots and fish nets. Her father is chief man in his village. He wants two axes for his daughter, but if you will live in his town he will give you part of his big house and a garden.'

"'Tell us about the next,' we said.

"'Here is a nice little girl. Her name is Kioto. She is very affectionate, is kind to her aged mother, knows how to make brooms, can cook a pig without burning it, and is economical. Her garden has no weeds in it, and she raises excellent bananas. She wants to get married and her mother will let her go for a piece of calico large enough to make a petticoat.'

"I noticed the beautiful girl whom I had met while out shooting among the number of the maidens, and I was anxious to hear what Lohier would say of her. She still wore the string of beads I had given her, and looked as pretty and modest as a violet. When he came to her he said:

"'This is Lucena. Is she not lovely? Her arms are round as bamboo; her form is supple as the climbing vine, her skin is smooth as a young banana leaf; her hair is soft as spiders' webs; her eyes are bright as dew in the morning. She can sing like a bird and run fast as a kangaroo; she is a good housekeeper, an affectionate daughter, and comes from a good family, for her father is a great warrior.

"The value set upon the beauty was an axe, a knife, a piece of calico, and a string of beads. We stood admiring her, and Lohier thought he had made a bargain. We realized that the affair might turn out seriously, perhaps, but we turned the matter off by declaring that we were unable to make a choice among so many lovely creatures and proceeding to distribute presents liberally.

"To most of the girls we gave gay-colored handkerchiefs, with a brass ring and a brass button in each. To Lucena we offered a looking-glass, and the young woman danced for our amusement while we ate our dinner, and sang a song, which they composed as they went along, describing the whole scene, and complimenting us on our generosity. Towards evening they bade us goodby and started for their homes."—Washington Star.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Juliette Doda, the brave Creole girl, who won one of the blue crosses of the Legion of Honor for her work during the Franco-Prussian war, is now one of the principal inspectors of schools in Paris.

The new M. P. for the Kincaldy Burghs is not the Dalziel of cable fame, but another successful journalist, a young man of 25, who has for some time been the London correspondent for the Scottish Leader.

Amelia E. Barr lives in a pretty little cottage on the mountain side near Deer Hill, opposite old Storm King. Mrs. Barr accomplishes the greater part of her work in the morning, sometimes in summer rising as early as 4 o'clock to take up her pen. She is said to derive an income of $8,000 a year from her novels.

"There's nothing like leather" for lasting, except it be a place-hunter's hunger for office. Here cometh the Hon. A. G. Wakefield, a time-worn and winter-scarred old lawyer of Bangor, Me., with a solemn claim that he is still wearing a pair of boots that were built for him in 1861. An not a man in the town dare arise and question his veracity or the boots.

Governor Russell observes the custom established by former chief magistrates of Massachusetts of using a new quill pen to sign each legislative bill of which he approves. The quills are used once only, and are then eagerly sought for by Boston relic-hunters, as were the clay pipes which Carlisle was accustomed to lay outside his door-sill after once smoking them.

Lord Dufferin is so fond of yachting that the absence of an opportunity to indulge in it is the fly in the ointment of his official life at Paris. While ambassador at Rome he passed every moment he could spare from his post on his yacht. He owns a boat constructed on a model of his own invention, which contains an arrangement of levers so adjusted that one man sitting in the cabin can execute all the maneuvering of the sails and rigging.

LOOK AT THIS.

Are these not healthy and bright children? Their appearance does not misrepresent them; they are both healthy and bright. They are the son and daughter of Mr. J. P. Wiley, of Dorchester, Mass., and he has an interesting story to tell in regard to them. The story is as follows:

"In 1885 my wife, accompanied by my little boy, at that time 11 months old, was visiting relatives in Scranton, Penna. The little fellow was suffering untold agony cutting his teeth. My wife was told to try Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. The effect was magical. It did not stupefy the child, as most remedies of this character do; it simply soothed the pain of the burning and aching gums. I might write a volume, had I the time, praising this remedy, and then not express my feelings or do it justice, it is simply marvelious. After her return to Boston she wanted another bottle, but I found that it was unknown in this city. I corresponded with Dr. Hand, and received in reply a sample of each of his remedies. I used them on both my children, recommended them to all my friends, and have yet to find the person who, after using the remedies, especially Teething Lotion and Colic Cure, that could not praise them. People may say, and have said to me: 'Oh, there must be something in that Teething Lotion that affects a child's brain.' In reply to this, I will say I have two children, a boy and girl, who have been treated with Teething Lotion since time of beginning to end of teething, and I challenge any person to furnish two with any clearer brains. I cheerfully recommend them to parents who love their little ones."

The April Accumulation a Notable One.

Chat about a Few of the Leading Volumes.

Dr. Chas. A. Briggs "Bible, Church and Reason"—J. F. Cowan's New Story for Young People—Mallock's "A Human Document" — Jules Sandeau's Prize Novel — Notes.

W. H. Mallock is an artistic delineator of human character. He is, back of the touch of his brush (the pen), something of a psychologist. The Cassells have issued his "A Human Document," in their paper-covered Sunshine series. In the introduction (which you will go back and read again after you have read the story) the author is represented as talking with a Hungarian Countess and the conversation, turning on the then comparatively recent book by Marie Bashkirtseff, the author regretted that the girl had died before she had lived; before she had anything to record. Said he: "I wish this woman with all her moral daintiness had been swept off her feet by some real and serious passion. I wish that with soul and body she had gone through the storm and fire: that what she had once despised and dreaded had really become the desire of her heart. What an instruction she would have been to herself during the process. How she would have felt each part of it—the degradation, the exaltation, the new weakness, the new strength, the bewilderment, the transfiguration! Could she only have known all this, and have written it down honestly, she would then have given us a human document indeed."

Then the Countess recalled to his mind a picture of a woman, in an old castle in Hungary where both had visited, and said she had in her possession manuscript, written by this woman, to be one day made into a book that designed to accomplish, in fancy, what he had wished could have been done in reality— an imaginative continuance of Marie Bashkirtseff's diary. The document began like what it purported to be, but betrayed, after a little, the life heart history of the woman herself, heretofore as innocent and impulsive as the dead Marie. Her fate came to her as she wrote and she transformed the imaginary diary into a real one. This is all explained in the introduction, and it is this "human document" that the author purports to have made into the book before us.

The story is simple enough in plot and the wonder is that, with two characters to do most of the acting and talking, wherein the fascination lies. It lies in the deep insight into human hearts and the always delicate finishing touch to every picture and every situation. Not a gross line, not a shadow that mars, just enough—the pen lifted at the right moment. Mr. Mallock forestalls the edict of the strict moralist, who, he fears, will not fully comprehend it all, by some lines for his benefit in the long introduction already mentioned. It is rarely that we meet on the literary stage two such finely-drawn, consistent characters as Grenville and Irma, who, not "good," yet engage the complete sympathy of the reader. The entire demolition of a man's ambition at the shrine of love, is artistically portrayed, even to the faintest shadow of his thoughts. For sale in Toledo by Brown, Eager & Hull.

A thorn in the flesh that will thrust through to the very soul of those who oppose him, is the new volume by Charles Augustus Briggs, D. D., entitled "The Bible the Church and the Reason, the Three Great Fountains of Divine Authority." It is Mr. Briggs' sixth volume of Scriptural study, and is inscribed "to Charles Butler, L. L. D., president of the board of directors of the Union Theological seminary, New York, the sole survivor of the founders of the seminary; the generous friend who endowed the Edward Robinson Chair of Biblical Theology."

The chair mentioned is the one occupied by Dr. Briggs. The book contains seven lectures, which have been delivered, by request, in many churches in New York and vicinity and are collected and published by request. They have been carefully supplemented by notes and illustrated by numerous and extensive appendices containing extracts from distinguished theologians who have given utterance to like views. The lecture on the Messianic Ideal, included in the collection, was delivered at Oberlin college and before the American Institute of Sacred Literature at Chicago.

Dr. Briggs says, in his preface, "the questions herein discussed cannot be pushed aside or ignored for they are more important than any other interest." They are practical matters upon which Christian life depends, and should be honestly, bravely and intelligently met. To remove barriers and stumbling blocks, even at the cost of conflict, he believes to be the mission of the true Christian peacemaker. With this end in view he labors for the peace, prosperity, unity and glory of the church. Of especial interest in the light of the doctrinal controversy now pending are the authors and "higher critics" quoted in the appendix. Pages of the notices of his former volumes from the columns of religious and denominational journals both sides of the sea are included in the final leaves. If Dr. Briggs needed to establish a character for profound scholarship, earnest and successful research, noble purpose and commendable achievement, it is written here by the highest religious authorities of the age.

The book is strongly argumentative and powerfully convincing, an addition of great value to the controversial literature of the absorbing questions involved, which, as Dr. Briggs has well said, will not down at bidding. The book will have an enormous sale in both factions of the church; among his friends for the strong meat it contains for mental and spiritual sustenance, among his enemies that they may know what they must meet and refute. Published by the Scribners. Sold by Brown, Eager & Hull: $1.75.

Rev. J. F. Cowan, the favorite story writer for boys and girls, has just published a new book entitled "The Mother of the King's Children." It comes in handsome illuminated covers, from the house of T. Y. Crowell & Co., N. Y. and Boston. Mr. Cowan tells his stories without preaching, yet there are good, wholesome lessons all through them. His boys are manly boys, and his girls are lively and natural, his incidents are many of them taken from real life, for he is an acute observer and a ready sympathizer. "The Mother of the King's Children" may be heartily recommended for young people. Mr. Cowan understands youthful readers and leads them chattily along pleasant paths while all the time they are, imperceptibly climbing higher. The Bee has chosen this book for its prize to story writers in the "Children's Hour." To be had at Brown, Eager & Hull's.

"Madeleine," by Jules Sardeau, is the prize novel of the year according to the crowning by the French Academy, Paris, translated by John Edwards and published by the Petersons in their Choice Fiction series. It is a simple tale of love and woman's heroic devotion and its reward—a story to inspire one with lofty ambitions, serene patience and above all with belief in the nobility of labor and of its virtue as a panacea for life's ills and sorrows. It is artistic in simplicity of design and finish, a characteristic in which the works of the best French writers excel. Price 25 cents, in paper covers. To be had at Brown, Eager & Hull's.

Notes.

"Outing" has entered upon the tenth year of its prosperous existence. One would wonder how the breezy and varied character of this magazine can be kept up to its high standard month after month, but it has all out-doors for its field, which is a large one.

"Harmonized Melodies" by Charles D. Blake, published by F. Trifet, 408 Washington street, Boston (double number for April), gives all the old and new song favorites that one can think of or ask for. From "Old Folks at Home" to Digby Bell's "Oh, How Different in the Morning," all are here and in handsome form. The price of the double number is 60 cents; of the magazine, $3 a year.

"In a Steamer Chair, and Other Shipboard Stories," by Robert Barr (Luke Sharp, of the Detroit Free Press), will be issued in Cassell's Sunshine series. Mr. Barr is in England associated with Jerome K. Jerome, in the editorship of The Idler. His humor is typically American, which means that it is spontaneous and satisfying.

The Atlantic Monthly and the New England Magazine retain their typical New England flavor which is something to be thankful for in this day of change and obliteration.

FOSTORIA NOTES.

Street Car Company to Push the Work.

Fostoria, O., April 27.—(Special)—An important meeting of the charter members of the Fostoria Street Railway company has been held. It was incorporated about two years ago, but has done nothing up to this time. The matter of street railways will now be taken into serious consideration, and another improvement be added to our city.

Tiffin parties also contemplate connecting that city and this by an electric line, and have made application for right of way to enter our city.

The Seneca county teachers' institute will convene here next Saturday.

NOTES FROM STRYKER.

Stryker, O., April 27.—(Special)—The Universalist semi-annual meetings of church, union and alliance of Stryker, Bryan, Lyons and Walbridge, have been in session three days and reported church work, Sunday school progress and alliance missionary duties being well attended to.

Tom Coslett, late foreman at the harness factory, has an appointment as prison guard at Columbus.

Mr. J. Tice, of Lima, is soliciting for the Southern Ohio Building and Loan association, of Cincinnati, to organize a local fund for town improvemnet.

The particular savings bank our town people, young and middle aged, might profit by, is a place of deposit for their surplus nickels and dimes.

WHICH MEANS HE'LL TAKE IT.

Boston, April 27.—Ex-Governor Ames, when asked if he would accept the nomination for congress that Congressman Morse has declined, said: "Well, that would depend on how it came to me. If I believe that it was the sentiment of the district that I should represent it in congress I might accept the nomination. I shall not enter into a scramble for it."

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE.

Many persons are afflicted with skin eruptions, boils and ulcers. Brandreth's Pills taken freely will in a short time effect a complete cure of all such troubles. Ulcers of long standing have been cured by them. Carbuncles have been checked in their incipiency by them. The worst fever sores, bed sores, and the like have been driven from the skin by them. Only begin in time and a few of Brandreth's Pills will prevent many a sickness.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Washington, April 27.—The senate committee on public buildings and grounds has reported favorably bills making appropriations for public buildings in Pennsylvania cities as follows: Altoona, $150,000; McKeesport, $100,000; Washington, $50,000.

PINKERTON INVESTIGATION.

Washington, April 27.—The house committee on judiciary has ordered Mr. Oates, of Alabama, to report favorably to the house a substitute for the resolution providing for an investigation of the Pinkerton detective agency.

OHIO BREVITIES.

William Workman, of Mt. Vernon, attempted suicide.

Samuel Williams committed suicide in prison at Youngstown.

John Esgate, a prominent citizen of Medina, died of heart disease.

The mayor of Zanesville has ordered all saloons closed on Sunday.

Peter Young, an aged citizen of Springfield, fell down stairs and broke his neck.

The residences of F. J. Ratchison, A. Dunkin, and John C. Winchester, at London, were burglarized.

The entire force of Lambach & Kipfer's paper hangers and painters, of Wooster, are out on a strike.

Frank Glenn, aged 13, is mysteriously missing from his home at Canton, and it is supposed he was enticed away by tramps.

By a natural gas explosion at the Summer Glass Works, of Steubenville, two employes, Sadie Crawford and Lawrence Carstenson, were seriously burned.

After suffering horribly for years from scrofula in its worst form, a young son of Mr. R. L. King, 706 Franklin street, Richmond, Va., was recently cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. No other medicine can approach this preparation as a cleanser of the blood.

Insanity is reported to have increased in France to such an extent that the asylums are no longer able to hold the lunatics.

GOSSIP FROM FINDLAY

Work on the New Railroad Progressing Rapidly.

Findlay, O., April 27.—(Special.)—The contract for grading and piling that part of the Findlay, Ft. Wayne & Western road between Grover Hill and the Mackinaw Railroad has been let to L. Monteville & Sons, of Toledo.

The above company has just received another 47 ton modern locomotive, No. 5, from the Pittsburg Locomotive Works, also another handsome new passenger coach from the Jackson Sharp Co., of Wilmington, Del.

Fifty 25-ton new freight cars have been constructed for and will be received next A new steel bridge is to be erected over Town Creek, this county, at once.

The preliminary survey of the line east to Greenwich, O., has been completed. Another line will be run before the permanent line is adopted. The new road is booming.

Nearly $800 was realized for City Hospital and Home of the Friendless by the series of entertainments given by the ladies of Findlay the past week.

PNEUMATIC TUBES.

The Government to Try a New Plan in St. Louis.

St. Louis, April 27.—The postoffice department has selected this city as the place in which to make the test for carrying mail matter through pneumatic tubes. A double pneumatic tube, each four inches in diameter, will be laid from the central postoffice to a point distant about 9,000 feet. The mail matter is to be borne in small carriages, which will make the journey in one minute. Work will be commenced on the tubes within a few weeks.

Frogs eggs are laid before they really are eggs in the true sense of the word. They are always laid under water, and when deposited are covered with a sort of the membrane, as an envelope, so as to occupy little space. As soon as they reach the water, however, they begin to absorb the water very rapidly, and in a short time these eggs are contained in the center of a jelly-like envelope, like a number of globules. They are kept apart from each other by reason of their acquired rotundity, and thus escape injuring one another.

FALLING OVER A PRECIPICE

Is a terrible thing, even in dreams. The victim of this frequent form of nightmare awakes with a start and a cry; his limbs bathed in cold perspiration, his heart thumping tremendously. Moral: Don't sleep on your back, particularly if you are troubled with dyspepsia and nervousness, and use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to cure these joint troubles. For sleeplessness, the inseparable attendant of chronic dyspepsia, and its offspring as well, the Bitters is a surpassing remedy. The disordered stomach is the progenitor of numberless harassing symptoms, and the organs of thinking is a faithful reflector of its disturbance, in which the liver and bowels also share. If we are to restore quietude to the brain and nervous system, we must reinforce the stomach and regulate the action of the digestive, secretive and evacuative organs. Prevent and remedy malaria, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, debility, heartburn, sick headache and la grippe with this remedy, which has received the unqualified sanction of eminent physicians.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Monroe Street Paving.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 9TH DAY OF MAY, 1892,

for improving Monroe street from Bancroft street to the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue, by paving the central thirty-six feet thereof, and from the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue to westerly city line the central forty feet thereof with Trinidad asphalt laid on a foundation of hydraulic cement concrete, together with the necessary grading, curbing, drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for in an assessment upon the lots and lands benefited thereby, one-half in ten days after the confirmation of the assessment and the remainder in one year thereafter, and the same manner with the Toledo Consolidated Street Ry. Co., except the part in the street intersection, which will be paid in cash by the city of Toledo, ninety days after the completion and acceptance of the work.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of four hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council,

C. H. DURIAN, City Clerk.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

Again the wheat market moves in the direction satisfactory to all lovers of our country. New York and Chicago opened a shade higher, but New York closed at 12 o'clock and before Bradstreets' visible supply report was made public, which sent Chicago market up a cent.

Add to Bradstreets' decrease in wheat of 4,918,000 bu. the decrease on the ocean of 1,328,000 makes a total of 6,246,000 bu. decrease in available wheat in a week, which we think will do.

Please do not accuse us of writing bull articles, if we say again that the sentiment of dealers seems to be more generally friendly to wheat. We have been no more bullish than to maintain that wheat ought to sell at the lake markets at $1.00, say up to January 1st. Will our readers please note that. There is no great cause of complaint at 92c for No. 2 soft wheat at Toledo, but then, we would like to help our weak Chicago friends get more than 81c for No. 2 spring. We never saw such a discrepancy before, nor any one else, and we are badly tangled about it.

We regret to say Chicago had not the sand to maintain the advance, and markets close demoralized.

Corn at Chicago ruled firm during the day, but when wheat broke prices fell off 1-2c.

Foreign markets closed stronger, and some of them a shade higher.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1-4c lower. July steady. May corn 1-2c and July 1-4c lower. May oats 1-8c lower.

In Toledo.—The business in wheat futures has been a little more active to-day than of late. A feature of the deal is an excess in trading in the futures beyond May. The latter has been dull. For July there was an advance at one time of 3-4c, but the close corresponds to yesterday all around. On the call May sold at 91 3-4 to 92c and closed at 91 7-8c. July 85 3-8c. After the call May sold at 92 to 92 1-8c and closed at 91 3-4c asked. July sold at 85 1-2 to 85 3-4 and 85 7-8c and closed at 85c. August sold at 84 5-8c and closed at 84c.

Cash wheat was dull, with less demand. No change. No. 2 soft at 92c; L. S. at 92 1-2c. Corn No. 2 at 41c; May at 41c; No. 4 at 33 1-2c. Oats—No 2 for May at 30c.

Clover seed—Nothing doing. No sales reported.

New York Close.

New York, April 27.—Money closed at 1 1-2@2 per cent. Exchange closed quiet and steady; posted rates $4.88@4.89 1-2; actual rates $4.87 for 60 days and $4.88 1-2 for demand.

Government steady; currency 6s 109 bid; 4s coup 115 3-4 bid; extended 2s registered 100 bid.

Stocks were a little more active during the two hours business to-day. Sales 130,000 shares. Rock Island, Nat Cordage, St. Paul, Erie, Northern Pacific, Atchison, and Reading were the only stocks that displayed any animation. Prices were weak at the opening and continued weak to the close under the lead of Rock Island and Nat Cordage. The latter was weak on announcement of the withdrawal of a large manufacturer from the Cordage trust. The closing prices were near the lowest of the day. The decline ranged from 1-8 to 1 1-8 per cent and extended to most stocks.

Flour moderately active and steady. City mill extra, $4.75@4.85 for West Indies; Minn. extra, $2.50@5.00; fine $2.00 @2.75; superfine, $2.25@3.00.

Wheat opened firm and continued firm throughout, closing 1-8c to 1-4c higher; No. 2 red winter $1.00 1-2 cash; April, 96 1-2c; May, 91 1-2c; June, 90 7-8c; July, 91.

Corn trading moderately active with prices firm; closing 1-4@3-4c higher; No. 2 mixed, 51c cash; 52c April; 47 3-4c May; 46c June; 46 1-4c July.

Oats quiet; No. 2 mixed, 34 1-2c cash; 34 1-4c April; 34 1-4c May; 34c June.

Rye dull; western, 82@83c.

Barley nominal.

Molasses quiet; New Orleans, 30@36c. Sugar—refined quiet; cut loaf and crushed 5@5 1-8c; powdered, 4 5-8@4 3-4c; granulated, 4 3-8@4 5-8c. Coffee dull; fair rio cargoes, 16 1-4c. Rice nominal. Pork dull; new mess, $10.50@11.00. Lard firm; $6.52 May; $6.84 July. Butter quiet and in buyers favor; western extra, 22@22 1-2c. Cheese quiet but steady; state factory full cream fancy, 11 3-4@12c. Eggs firmer; state choice, 15c; western do 15c. Turpentine quiet; prime city 4 3-4c. Petroleum dull. Freights quiet; grain to Liverpool, steam, 2d.

CHICAGO OPENING.

Chicago, April 27.—Opening: Wheat—May, 81 3-8c; July, 81 1-4c. Corn—May, 41 3-4c; July, 39 1-4c. Oates—May, 28 3-4c. Pork—May, $9.57 1-2; July, $9.77 1-2. Lard—May, $6.20; July, $6.30. Ribs—May, $5.65; July, $5.77 1-2.

LIVE STOCK.

New York, April 27.—Cattle—Receipts 1,900 head, all for exporters and slaughterers. No trade. Feeling dull. Dressed beef was steady at 6@8c per lb for native sides. Shipments to-day 1,011 beeves; to-morrow 352 beeves and 7,420 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts 340 head. The market was dull. Sales of veals at $3 50@5 00 per cwt, mixed calves at $2 50@3 87 1-2, buttermilks at $2 00@2 50.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts 2,500 head. The market for sheep was steady; lambs 1-8c per lb lower. VAN LOON FOUND GUILTY

The Verdict of the Jury Handed to the Judge.

The Result a Great Surprise and a New Trial Will Undoubtedly be the Result.

Ottawa, O., April 27.—The case of Frank Van Loon was given into the hands of the jury at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon after an able and exhaustive resume of the case by Judge Handy.

It was expected that the jury woul disagree, and when at 7:30 o'clock the court bell sounded the note of warning that a verdict had been arrived at a rush was made for the court house.

The prisoner was brought in and was seated beside his faithful wife when the jurors filed in and took their places.

"Have you reached a verdict, gentlemen?" inquired Judge Handy.

Their faces told what was coming, and Attorney Sutton, after a consultation with Judge Handy, called Mrs. Van Loon and Mrs. Oyler, his sister, from the room. The foreman of the jury then handed the judge a sealed verdict, which was read by the clerk.

"We, the jury, find the prisoner, Frank Van Loon, guilty of murder in the first degree, as charged in the indictment."

Van Loon sat transfixed and never moved a muscle. His face became deathly pale, and Judge Handy had to order his removal to the county jail a second time before he moved. On the way to the jail his wife and sister, having heard his fate, rushed up to him and threw their arms about his neck and cried out in anguish.

His wife fell to the ground and cried and moaned. The prisoner had to be torn from them and taken to the jail. Great excitement prevailed, as the verdict was unexpected, a disagreement having been looked for. Senator Sutton will make an attempt to get a new trial. The verdict, while it may be just, does not meet with public approval.

A LIMITED SUPPLY.

Hostetter McGinnis—So you are going to marry one of those Jones girls?

Gus De Smith—Yes.

"You have been married to two of them, haven't you?"

"Yes."

"And there are only two unmarried sisters left?"

"Yes, that's all."

"Well, then, you ought to be careful about those Jones girls and not waste any more of them, or they will not hold out."—Texas Siftings.

BROWN DENIES THE CHARGE

And Kurtz Swallows His Dose Like a Little Man.

Brown Will Make No Apology, but He Does Write a Letter of Introduction.

It is over. The war is ended.

Postmaster Brown denies that he called Jacob Kurtz that naughty name, and Jake swallows down the ugly dose.

Before going to Cleveland yesterday Brown indited an epistle to Jake in which he said he had been informed that he (Brown) was accused of applying to Jake an objectionable epithet. He denies the charge in toto and appeals to a 20-year friendship as the motive of writing the note.

Apology? Not much. Brown is alleged to have said when writing the epistle that he would see the man in hades before he would make an apology.

And does the simple Jacob take any stock in the denial. Nixie. But he swallows the bitter pill just the same.

Judge Millard and 30 others stood ready to testify that Brown did use the expression and yet Jake will try and make the public believe that he believes Brown did not say it.

It is something like the Irishman's apology:

"I am charged," he said, "with calling this man a ——. It is true and I am sorry for it."

Holding His Own, and so are the Carlsbad Sprudel Salts against all imitations and attempts to steal our thunder. This universal standard and world-renowned remedy is now appreciated by millions. It is a common thing for people of wealth to visit Carlsbad seeking health, new blood, a strong stomach and a cure for constipation; but everybody can have it now at the drugstores in the shape of the Carlsbad Sprudel Salts or the imported waters; just as efficacious; Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents, New York.

Advance of the Pipe Brigade.
Retreat of the Cigar Cohorts.

Yes the Pipe is coming to the front as never before. The high price of good cigars is helping drive them out of use. Millions of smokers use Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco.

It is the most popular Brand in the market. Smoked for over twenty-five years its fame is still growing—Quality always the same.

REPORTS FROM THE BOUNTIFUL NORTHWEST.

The bountiful crops in the northwest last season have directed the attention of everybody interested to this section of our country, and the indications are that the volume of travel in this direction the coming spring will be the largest in its history. Those intending to visit any portion of the northwest should be particular to see that their tickets read over the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railway, the quickest, best and most popular line between Chicago and St. Paul. Its equipment is new and elegant, and accommodations offered in high-back sofa seats are only obtained via this route without any extra charge whatever, and are far preferable to the old style of chair car seats. Its trains arrive at and depart from the Grand Central Passenger Station, Chicago, the handsomest station in the world, and Union depot connections are also made at St. Paul with through express trains for the great northwest and the granaries of the world.

We will further add this is the only line in the northwest running vestibuled compartment Pullman sleeping cars, also standard form of Pullman sleepers, the price for the exclusive use of a drawing-room in the former being no more than the cost of a section in the ordinary style of sleeping cars. Its dining car service is unsurpassed and its trains are run on the fastest schedule time.

Ticket agents will tell you all about this popular railway, or you can address J. A. Granger, Columbus, Ohio, for further information.

FOR THE TOILET

There is no more useful or elegant article than Ayer's Hair Vigor—the most popular and economical hair-dressing in the market. It causes the hair to grow abundantly and retain the beauty and texture of youth; prevents baldness, heals troublesome humors of the scalp and keeps it clean, cool, and healthy. Both ladies and gentlemen everywhere prefer Ayer's Hair Vigor to any other dressing for the hair. Mrs. Lydia O. E. Pittsworth, Moody, Me., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time, and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and falling hair, so that I was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor, my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor to any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair."

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never Fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist.
